FOREWORD

It has been our aim from the beginning to the end of this year's Le Bijou to publish a book of the students, by the students, and for the students. We have enjoyed the privilege of representing our class in the presentation of this book, and sincerely hope that we have given the students a fitting remembrance of their past year at Ohio Wesleyan.

I have seen dedications to about every person known on or off the campus, but I have never seen one like this. But why not? The Student Body is what a college exists for; there is no other objective. Just think of what is tied up in this group—the group of students now on the campus. If a visit to alumni all over the country is any criterion, there can be nothing more interesting in life than a body of college students. They will go everywhere; they will enter all the professions; they will marry and be given in marriage; they will die young and live to a ripe old age; they will have sorrow and gladness; they will have success and failure—and all that is wrapped up in that bundle of possibilities, the Student Body. And the Student Body at Ohio Wesleyan is different from that in any other college. It has an individuality just as each student has. We like to think that it is not only different, but possessed of a flavor which marks Ohio Wesleyan as a college which sends out men and women who can be expected to make a unique contribution to human society everywhere.

—President Soper

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Before any of us came to Ohio Wesleyan we had heard of its friendly atmosphere. This fraternal spirit, which has existed since the day of Ohio Wesleyan's founding, has come not only from the students, but also from the faculty as well. Two people who have played a very large part in making this university known for its geniality are Dr. and Mrs. Soper. As wife of the president, Mrs. Soper fosters a spirit of friendliness by having teas and dinners for the students. In addition to being a charming hostess, Mrs. Soper always has her tables set in the most beautiful manner.

Dr. Soper comes in contact with the students a great deal and sympathetically advises or informally chats with them, and his unassuming manner in chapel endears him to everyone. Dr. Soper has as his hobby a rather unusual and difficult one—woodcarving. Much of his spare time is spent in carving fraternity crests or other intricate pieces.

Dr. and Mrs. Soper's home and heart are open to the students. Their kind words are an inspiration to all.

PRESIDENT AND MRS. SOPER

W
17

The Board of Trustees, the actual governing body of Ohio Wesleyan, holds title to all property of the university, selects the president, and hires or approves all recommendations for new professors and for advances in rank of the professors.

The board consists of thirty-eight members. Dr. John Edwin Brown is president. Dr. Soper as president and Bishop Herbert Welch and Dr. John W. Hoffman, presidents emeritus, are ex-officio members. Eighteen of the conference trustees are alumni, and only three on the whole board are not alumni. All trustees are elected for five year terms, and they may be re-elected.

This group meets twice a year in Delaware. They meet around the first of December and then again on the Friday before commencement. There are special committees which are very active. Among them, the executive committee meets every month and carries on the regular functions of the board itself. The investments committee also meets every month to discuss the university's investments. The building and grounds and development program committees are also very active.

Other officers are Harvey O. Yoder, first vice president; Clarence LaRue, second vice president; B. E. Cartmell, secretary; and D. J. Hornberger, treasurer.

New to the faculty this year is Miss Mary Helen Fretts, Dean of Women, Wesleyan Graduate, and a former dean at Ohio University. Serving in a double capacity, she spends her spare time grading Freshman English themes. She is distinguished by her beautiful iron-gray hair, her sparkling black eyes, her longing for "ye olde custome" of tea at four (carry-over from a year at Oxford), and her enthusiastic singing of fraternity songs in Monnett dining-room. It is rumored that she prefers the title Miss Fretts to that of Dean Fretts.

Dean of Men is Joseph Somerville, a graduate of DePauw and President of the Senior Class there at the same time that Prof. Manuel was President of the Student Body. In his official capacity he meets with the Inter-Fraternity Council, signs auto license permits, holds conferences with all freshman men, and "chaperones" the pajama parade. A hint—he is prone to dislike those who disturb him before his morning coffee.

Harold Sheridan, Dean of the College, is a University of Toronto graduate. Mechanically inclined, he tinkers in a shop of his own and has built a cobblestone fireplace at his Blind River cabin. Students know him best for his dignified introductions of chapel speakers, his benign smile, and his Dean's List (the empty honor).

ADMINISTRATION HEADS OF O. W. U.

It is these men who see to it that Ohio Wesleyan is kept running like a highly specialized machine, smoothly and efficiently. Mr. Donald J. Hornberger, treasurer of the University, is the general supervisor over all financial reports and business. Much of his time, however, is spent in making investments for the University. Mr. Allen C. Conger, besides teaching several courses in the Zoology department, acts in the capacity of Registrar. It is his duty to take charge of all entrance requirements and the admissions of prospective students. In addition he records the grades of the students and of the fraternities and sororities. Mr. Donald B. Watkins has charge of the business operations of the college, some of which include the purchasing for the school and supervision of the budget. Moreover, he controls the direct business end of the dormitories. The person in charge of the plant and maintenance is known to all of us as Mr. John J. Hickson. Among his many duties are those of taking charge of repairs and managing the personnel department.

Because of their noteworthy efforts and systematic methods in their work, they have become known to us as the Administration Heads.

“Where Alma Mater meets the public!”—the Alumni Office in Edgar Hall. Mr. H. M. Shipps, the executive secretary, helps maintain the prominent position of this office on the campus. The addresses of 17,000 alumni are kept in this office and recorded by Mrs. Bessie Beal, '03, who also writes the alumni notes in the Alumni Magazine, edited by Mary Ramsey. It is from this office that both the Alumni Magazine and the News Bulletin are mailed. Alumni have been meeting this year from New York to San Francisco, and even so far away as in Japan and China. Through the efforts of this organization, 1,682 persons contributed to the Alumni Fund last year.

“Where new students meet Ohio Wesleyan!”—the New Student Office, which corresponds with several thousand prospective students of which approximately 400 come to Wesleyan yearly. In an effort to familiarize high school students with the opportunities of Ohio Wesleyan, arrangements are made for special days, during which the visitors are our guests on the campus. The Century Club, under the direction of Miss Mildred Alcott, has been very helpful in the new student work. Other important members of this office are Gilson Wright, '30, head of the news bureau, and Mr. Cartmell, secretary of the board of Trustees.

Year by year the reputation of Ohio Wesleyan's library grows in the outside world. This library has become one of Wesleyan's greatest assets. And yet, in spite of the fact that Slocum Library is recognized as one of the ten finest college libraries in America, we are too prone to disregard the group of people who operate that library and too apt to forget the valuable service which they render. The chief of the whole library organization is Russel B. Miller, librarian, who deserves highest credit for making Slocum the smooth-running mechanism which it is. Under the guidance of Mr. Miller is an efficient staff composed of the Misses Kelly, Irwin, Gordon, McElroy, Hancock, Ott, Williams, and Chapman whose services, coupled with the management and direction of Mr. Miller, have made the Slocum Library, with its one hundred sixty thousand volumes, a facile instrument for all who care to use it.

Slocum has also collections of illuminated medieval manuscripts, the Gunsaulus collection of personal belongings of Elizabeth Barrett and Robert Browning, a collection of papal bulls, including those by which Henry VIII and Queen Elizabeth were excommunicated, and a collection of original letters of George Washington.

STAFF OF O. W. U. LIBRARY

DEPARTMENT OF HEALTH

Director of Student Health is Dr. G. T. Blydenburgh, who divides his time between the patients he visits in the Student Hospital and those who visit him in his Edgar Hall office. He keeps strict tab on all students, a record being made every time anyone applies for treatment, and a physical recheck being required each year for sports participation. His recommendations to ailing students vary from an examination by a Columbus specialist to a weekend of rest and orange juice in the Student Hospital.

Nurse in the Health Office is Miss Kuntzman, petite, soft-voiced, and brown-eyed, who specializes in cold treatments and from whose hands Wesleyan men will take anything and like it. Other staff members are Miss Knight, Dr. Blydenburgh's secretary, Miss Myers, Superintendent of the Student Hospital, Miss Hawkins, and Miss Worline, motherly night nurse who has served in that capacity for eight years, seven days a week.

This year the Health Department was faced with the rather unique problem of finding enough beds to accommodate the numerous victims of the flu epidemic. The situation came to a climax during February, when it became necessary to equip the Hospital Annex for the first time in years, and even Austin Study Hall was turned into a ward with "no visitors allowed."

HALL SUPERVISORS

Mack

Biggs

Slough

The responsibility of hall supervision falls upon the Dean of Women and her dormitory assistants. In Stuyvesant, Miss Josephine Montgomery, aided by the Senior Advisers, guides home-sick freshmen through rushing, and at frequent house meetings, pleads effectively, with her own particular brand of humor, for rubber rather than leather heels on school shoes, a bit more attention to table decorum in the dining-room, and less noise during quiet hours. Miss Hortense Moore serves in the double capacity of assistant freshmen dean and speech professor.

Reigning in Monnett is Miss Esther Ostlund, vivacious new Y. W. C. A. secretary. Her chief duties seem to be granting special "pers" and pleading for a more strict observance of seating arrangements in the dining-room. A music major herself, she can occasionally be persuaded to play for group singing between courses at dinner.

In Austin Miss Goldie McCue sits at head table and tactfully advises dignified Seniors, while Miss Ernestine Pavey, a former Mortar Boarder at Ohio State, is her assistant. Nocturnal quietude is maintained in the three dorms by "Dad" Slough, Mr. Biggs, and Mr. Mack. Mrs. Hartman and Mrs. Welch cooperate with the girls at Perkins and Hartupee respectively.

THE ENGLISH DEPARTMENT

The English Department is headed by Prof. E. F. Amy, a student of Thomas Hardy, who went to England last summer to gather additional material. Prof. B. T. Spencer's Shakespeare course is especially popular, while Miss Marie Drennan, a poet in her own right, is well qualified to teach Verse-Writing. Other staff members are Prof. Harry Wood, who combines Journalism and Art, Miss Ruth Davies, Miss Ruth Fickel, Professors Kain, Ritter, and Simmons.

LANGUAGE DEPARTMENT

Teaching Greek and Latin. Prof. D. N. Robinson livens up the "dead" languages. The German Department is headed by Prof. Chadbourne Dunham, youngest departmental head and popular chapel speaker. He is ably assisted by Prof. Paul Hahn. Prof. Omen Boring and Miss Laura Wagner comprise the Spanish Department. Prof. Chester Murray, head of the French Department, is assisted by Prof. Paul Huser, Miss Helen Parsons, and Miss Florence Avery.

The Education Department, which, to the average Wesleyan student, implies a “comprehensive test in one’s major” followed by a semester of student-teaching with no time out for spring vacation, comprises Prof. Harold Sheridan, also Dean of the College, Mrs. Blythe Crowl, and Professors C. O. Mathews and Luther J. Bennett.

ECONOMICS and BUSINESS

Stone, Jones, Keener, Barnes

The Economics and Business Administration Department is headed by Gilbert Barnes, Wesleyan’s absent minded professor. He is assisted by Professors J. Ward Keener, wise-cracking capitalist, George Jones, and Leo Stone.

The Fine Arts Department is headed by Miss Sallie Humphreys, who with Miss Frances Hopewood specializes in design and in interior decoration. Crafts and drawing are taught by Miss Sybil Gould, while Miss Mary Rollo teaches drawing and painting. During the fall the Department exhibited a splendid Van Gogh collection.

HISTORY DEPARTMENT

The History Department comprises Prof. Hubbart, who advocates the course in Recent U. S. History and denounces the "mad whirl of campus activities," Prof Eells, author of his own testbook, and Prof. Van Sickel.

The faculty of the Home Economics Department is headed by Bertha E. Titsworth and includes Assistant Professor McNinch, Mrs. Mangun, and Miss Unsworth. Miss McNinch and Miss Unsworth offer classes in textiles and clothing, and Mrs. Mangun in food and nutrition.

MATHEMATICS DEPARTMENT

Professor Sidney A. Rowland is acting head of the Mathematics Department, the faculty of which includes Associate Professors Rufus Crane and Charles Wolfe. This is Mr. Wolfe's first year of instruction at Ohio Wesleyan. Professor Rowland spends his spare time directing the government of the city of Delaware.

For graduation, the Physical Education Department requires four semesters of gym work of both men and women. Especially popular this year were courses in tap dancing, social dancing, and bowling. In addition, the department sponsors intramural competition.

MUSIC DEPARTMENT

Acting head of the Music Department is Professor Keller, organist and director of the chapel choir, glee clubs, and Singers' club. Professor Hewitt teaches piano and his increasingly popular Music Appreciation course, while Professors Cleeland, Stevens, and Hibbard are in charge of voice, band, and orchestra respectively.

Prof. J. T. Marshman, veteran head of the Speech Department, is assisted by Prof. Hunter, Shakespearean authority, Prof. Diem and Miss Lloyd, in charge of debate, and Miss Moore, instructor in Stagecraft and technical advisor for plays. As an innovation this year, a course in Radio Technique was offered.

THE SCIENCE DEPARTMENT

The Science Department is generally known on the campus for its nine-hour graduation requirement. Professors Rice and Westgate, only remaining members of Wesleyan's original "Big Six," head the Zoology and Geology Departments respectively. Prof. Hahnert assists in the instruction of the Zoology Department. Prof. O'Neal, loyal Hoosier, is the sole sponsor of Botany, while Prof. Bobrovnikoff assisted by Professors Cherrington and Hynek comprise the Astronomy Department. Prof. Jarvis heads the Physics Department, while Prof. Manuel is assisted by Professors Yohe and Sinnet in Chemistry.

STUDENT ADMINISTRATION

Student Body officers are elected in the spring of their Junior year after a strenuous campaign that might rival presidential elections in qualifications—listing posters, political speeches, and party alliances.

President of the Student Body was Oliver Mansfield, who, in an attempt to “clean-up” campus politics, instigated a worthy change in class elections and in Student Council organization. He maintained the dignity of his office by avoiding chapel appearances, often delegating that pleasure to committee heads or subordinates.

Robert Horn, secretary-treasurer of the student body, triple-major O. D. K. man, and clear-thinking protege of the History Department, successfully revived the Student Chest Drive and reorganized the S. A. O. office.

Lonis A. Banks, athletic representative and fighting he-man on gridiron and diamond, won his office on the attributes of a beaming smile and personality.

Thomas Weaver, song leader and all-around favorite as accompanist and organist, preferred to direct the singing of the Alma Mater from his familiar piano bench.

STUDENT OFFICERS

STUDENT COUNCIL

The Student Council, presided over by Oliver Mansfield, Student Body President, comprises the Secretary of the student body, the editors of LeBijou and Transcript, the presidents of classes, Panhellenic Council, Interfraternity Council, W. S. G. A., W. A. A., Y. W. C. A., Y. M. C. A., Mortar Board, and O. D. K., the Athletic Representative, the University Social Chairman, and representatives of non-fraternity men and women.

This year the council has concentrated on three phases of campus activity. First, it has attempted to revise student administration so as to bring about continuity in management of affairs from one year to another. Its second aim has been the revival of the Student Chest Fund. After a strenuous drive, over one thousand dollars was raised. Finally, the social program has been revised, so as to allow for class dances and unique affairs such as this year's Mardi Gras, in addition to regular varsities. Friday morning chapel is usually in the hands of Oliver Mansfield, who presents at that time to the student body recommendations from the council.

The Forum Committee, an innovation on the campus this year, attempted two principal projects—the obtaining of outside speakers for afternoon forums and the reestablishment of the Concert Lecture Series on the campus. Due to lack of adequate finances, the Committee was not able to carry out its plans. Acting as chairman was Fred Coope, with Professor Diem the adviser.

As its name implies, the elections committee conducts the election of student officers. This year four amendments to the student body constitution were passed. Freshman elections will be abolished and all student council members will be elected at the same time. It is hoped that these new amendments will be effective and will make for more continuity.

The President's Cabinet is concerned with the routine functions of each of its members. In an effort to bring about more continuity in the functioning of the student administration, it has endeavored to inquire into the campus problems and to compile a record of its results for the use and help of future administrations.

The Special Days' Committee plans for all special holiday weekends such as Homecoming, Dad's Day, and High School Day. This year, the Committee, headed by Bill Walton, treated high school seniors to a lunch at Edwards Gym and worked out especially original campus decorations for Homecoming—each tree leading to the stadium bearing the name of a former college president.

These are the sophomore tryouts of the Student Affairs Office. Their duties lie in collecting the facts upon which are based the voluminous reports and surveys of the office. They are under the immediate supervision and direction of the Junior S. A. O. staff and are subject ultimately to the direction of Bob Horn, Secretary-Treasurer of the Student Body and head of the S. A. O. Office.

These gentlemen are the direct aspirants to the position of Secretary-Treasurer. This year each has been in charge of a group of S. A. O. tryouts. In addition to compiling the usual activity records, they have, under Horn's direction, made a long-time survey to determine whether each section of the state is supplying a greater or lesser number of students than formerly.

The Student Budget Committee, with Robert Horn as chairman and Dean Fretts and Dean Somerville as advisors, apportions among the various campus organizations the funds derived from the $8.25 fee assessed with tuition each semester. From this fund are paid the expenses of the student body, the classes, athletics, the speech department, Y. M. C. A., Y. W. C. A., and W. A. A.

The Chapel Committee, consisting jointly of students and faculty members, plans all chapel programs. With Charles Harmon as chairman and Pres. Soper as advisor, music and religion, outside speakers and mass meetings, have been successfully balanced.

The main project of the Welfare Committee is the distribution of positions to worthy students desiring financial assistance. This year, under the chairmanship of Sue Martin, all Delaware business men were canvassed in an attempt to enlarge the list of available jobs.

STUDENT BODY COMMITTEES

With Elmore McNeal and Gerald Manypenny as co-chairmen, the 1936-37 University Social Committee sponsored a most successful season claiming as its greatest achievement the inauguration of class dances, which successively dotted the spring calendar.

The committee made its debut with the "Icebreaker," climaxing Freshman Week and introducing the class of '40 to O. W. U. social life. As the gridiron season progressed, the Dayton game proved an inspiration for the Dayton Swing, featuring Dick Barrie and his orchestra. Jess Hawkins was secured for the Homecoming Varsity, at which Bob Longworth and Alice Whitten ruled as King and Queen. Something new and different was the Mardi Gras, a carnival sponsored by W. A. A. and featuring Jimmy Raschel's black band and a stag line. Sororities (and Alpha Sigma Phi) displayed money-making booths, with the Thetas' dog raffle seeming to be the most successful. Climaxing the Greek Conclave was the Conclave Ball, with Mary Tarbell as Queen and Ray Pearl's orchestra.

In addition, each year the committee sponsors exchange dinners between fraternities and freshmen women and cooperates with Panhellenic, Mortar Board, and O. D. K. in their respective dances.

The Executive Board of Women's Student Government Association is composed of the Executive President, Executive Secretary, Treasurer, and Judicial President, who, in addition to serving on the Judicial Board, plan the year's social and cultural program "for women only." All activities are financed by the fifty cents fee paid per semester by each dormitory occupant.

This year, the Board, in the words of President Barrett, was "as busy as a one-armed paper hanger." In the fall, those coeds who were especially active on the campus were honored at a leader's banquet, featuring Judge Florence Allen as guest speaker.

As an innovation, W. S. G. A. sponsored a program of vocational guidance and personality development, in connection with which such speakers as Mrs. Toby, Vogue stylist, Dean Gaw of Ohio State, and Dr. Harding, an authority on Mental Hygiene, were brought to the campus.

For the benefit of Freshmen, Stuyvesant house meetings replaced sorority pledge meetings once a month and featured talks on adaptation to college life by Mrs. Sears and Miss McCue, among others.

High lights of the year were Monnett Weekend, which included the crowning of the incoming Executive President as May Queen, May Night, or dormitory Open-House, and the Mistletoe Tea Dance.

W. S. G. A.
EXECUTIVE BOARD

The Judicial Board functions in making and enforcing the regulations by which Wesleyan women abide, and is symbolized to most students by an august room in Austin basement, complete even to Executive President Barrett's Gavel and to Judicial Secretary Wilcke's demerit files. It meets every Wednesday night to judge and penalize appropriately rule infractions. Decisions are recognized and respected for their fairness and equality; the Board always tries to "hand out a square deal." Other activities of the Board include the checking of "Sign In" and "Sign Out" books in dorm offices, and the sponsoring of an examination on W. S. C. A. rules, which freshmen and transfers are required to pass.

Meetings are presided over by "Do" Patton, J. P., F. T., S. D. (Judicial President, Fast Talker, Square Dealer), whose most frequent remark in favor of a girl is "She's on the level." Her concluding statements to persons just sentenced have been known to relax the dignity of tense situations considerably. Other members are the Judicial Secretary, Executive President, Executive Secretary, Treasurer, Point Chairman, Social Chairman, class representatives, and presidents of the dormitories and cooperative houses. Miss Ernestine Pavey acts as adviser.

"DORM" PRESIDENTS

Ringle

Galloway

Klinzing

The three house presidents, in cooperation with their dorm deans and house councils, keep coed life running smoothly. They are in charge of all house meetings, and on occasion, may be invited to preside at head table in the dining-room. Their office entitles them to membership in W. S. G. A. Judicial Board and on Student Council.

Jean Galloway rules in Austin, and at the same time pursues her studies in dietetics. Peppy and independent, she's a whiz, especially at driving her car down Sandusky.

Margaret Klinzing is the capable and unassuming president of Monnett. Happy and enthusiastic, she is in keeping with the atmosphere of Wesleyan's oldest dormitory. It is said that she possesses quite an affinity for water, having fallen in lakes both at Geneva and at Y. W. Retreat.

President of Stuyvesant and swimmer de luxe is Ann Ringle, who, in one and the same semester, has had the distinction of not only being elected to "Stu Gee" Judicial Board but also of being called before it (for an unavoidable offense).

The Seniors of 1937 have metamorphosed considerably from the group of Freshmen, who four years ago bridged the difficult gap between the assurance of a high-school fourth year and the uncertainty of a college first year. Having completed the cycle again, they have earned the right to occupy the hallowed Senior Bench and to drive cars after spring vacation without license permits. But they have found that the Senior year entails much more—to some it has involved the responsibility of directing, perhaps reforming, O. W. U. student administration, to others, the bewilderment of the query, "After college, what?" and to still others, the problem of meeting the C average graduation requirement.

With Charles Harmon as president and Barbara Garver as secretary-treasurer, they have run the gauntlet of the usual fourth year activities, acting as chairmen of student administration committees, as captains of varsity teams, as leads in dramatic productions, as assistants in science laboratories, and even as student teachers.

Finally, as June nears, comes a reluctant realization of the part they are to play as alumni.

The outstanding contribution of the Junior Class this year was its example in the field of cleaner class politics, in that it ran unopposed and with no party affiliations its choice for president, Jim McKinnie, and for secretary-treasurer, Marjorie Molden. As a result, student-body elections, held in the spring, were conducted on a like basis with reference to political tie-ups.

Two campus activities were headed by Juniors—the publication of the Bijou, with Don Purviance as editor, and the new-student drive sponsored by Century Club, with Margaret Beamer and Paul Riffle as co-chairmen. In addition, 3rd-year students held down the jobs of Transcript issue-editors, and began to merit membership in such campus honoraries as Theta Alpha Phi.

Toward spring, all thoughts began to turn hopefully toward Mortar Board and O. D. K. elections.

McKinnie

Molden

The Sophomores, otherwise referred to as sophisticated morons, returned to school in the fall of '36 much matured—the men at the prospect of living in frat houses and putting others through Hell Sessions, the girls at the thought of 10:30 permissions on week nights.

With Bible and G 101 requirements well out of the way, choices of majors and life works were seriously considered. For some, this inspired pin-planting, which developed into an epidemic so serious that even rainy Monday noons provided the proper atmosphere in a few cases.

The men distinguished themselves early in the year by being defeated again in the Freshman-Sophomore fights, but compensated for this by earning varsity berths on football and basketball teams. At the same time, the swimming squad developed into the best in years, with the addition of the record-smashing Moran brothers.

Sophomores began to assume leadership also in dramatics, journalism, music, and debate, and one of the class, Tracey Jones, was chosen to represent Ohio and the University at a Youth Conference in St. Louis.

SOPHOMORE CLASS

The class of '40 was ushered in amid the usual Freshman week routine of physical exams, "nut" tests, library tours, and fraternity rushing—under the new 15 pledge quota. Sorority rushing, a week later, saw Frosh girls initiate customs of wearing identification cards and calling in groups at Sunday teas, while a new Panhellenic ruling permitted Y. W. Big Sister visits.

Freshman caps were worn by the men only till Thanksgiving, as a result of the decisive victory over the Sophs in the annual fights.

The class was quick to adapt itself to typical O. W. U. customs, soon realizing that everyone attended Convocations, patronized Bun's, and even wore ear muffs. Eager to delve into activities, (with perhaps a little encouragement from respective frats), yearlings soon made their mark in debate, Freshman Players, Singers' Club, Y. W. C. A., Transcript, freshman athletics, and even cheer-leading.

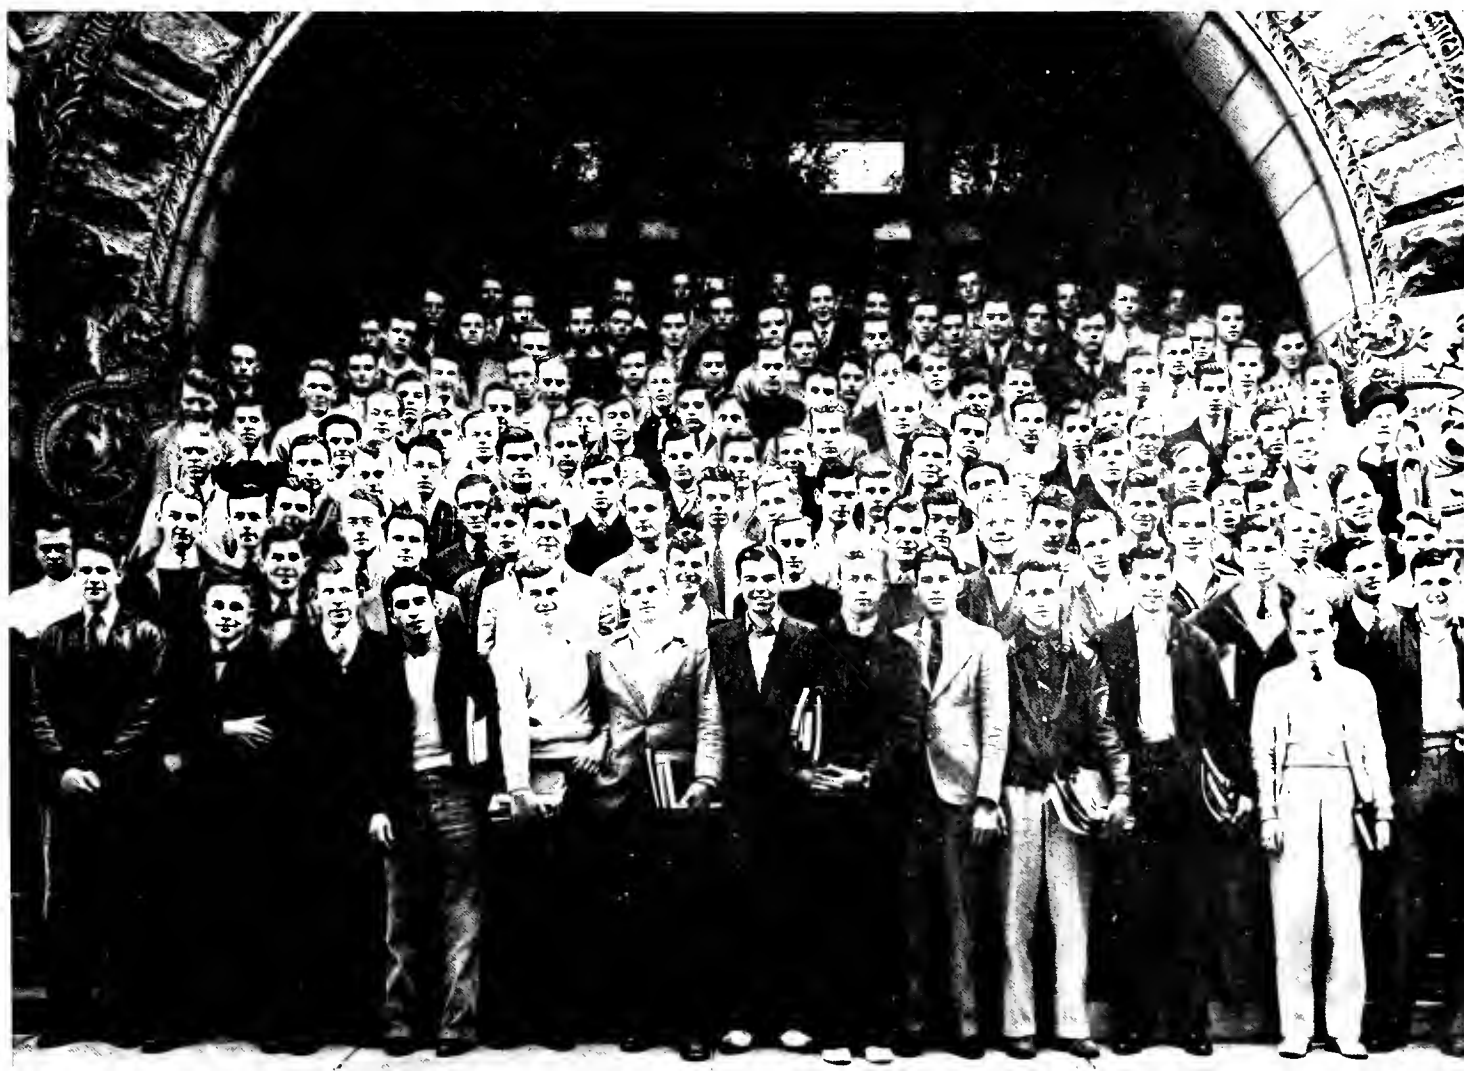

Class elections, held early in the second semester, were sanely conducted with no division into political parties. Bob Porterfield was elected president, with Kay Edwards secretary-treasurer.

IN MEMORIAM

Carolyn Doolittle

Carolyn Doolittle, a freshman from Warren, Ohio, was fatally injured in the fall in an automobile accident on Delaware streets. Although on the campus only a few months, Carolyn had already made an unusually successful adaptation to college life and was eagerly winning a place for herself as a member of the Transcript staff, as manager of the Girls' Glee Club, and as an interested participant in athletics. Her light-hearted disposition and her unique verse-writing tendencies were among the characteristics that made her loss deeply felt throughout the University. A pledge of Alpha Gamma Delta, she was duly initiated after her death.

ATHLETIC DIRECTOR GAUTHIER

Coach George E. Gauthier

The "Little Giant," as he is commonly known in Ohio collegiate circles, has directed Ohio Wesleyan's athletic fortunes since 1921, and in this time he has gained the respect of his opponents and the admiration of his players. As Director of Athletics and head coach in football and track, Coach Gauthier has amassed a remarkable record and promoted Ohio Wesleyan to a place of prominence in the world of sports.

The administration and control of Ohio Wesleyan's intercollegiate athletics are carried out by an Athletic Board of Control, consisting of six faculty members and two students, the latter elected from the Junior and Senior classes by the student body. The present members of this governing body are: Professor Conger, chairman, Dean Somerville, Coach Gauthier, and Professors Roberts, Manuel, and Husband. The student body members for the past year have been Halden Miller and Louis Banks. Banks, as a Junior, will continue to serve next year while a new member will be chosen to fill Miller's vacancy.

The University, as one of the charter members of the Buckeye Intercollegiate Athletic Conference, must be governed in all athletic contests by the rules and standards of that organization. It is the duty of the Athletic Board to see that all Conference regulations are adhered to and that all athletic contests are carried on as set forth by Conference decisions. Some of the specific functions of the Board are to approve the coaches' recommendation for varsity letters and freshman numerals, to make athletic staff appointments, balance the budget of the University's sport program, provide for intramural activities, check on eligibility of players, to elect the managers of all varsity sports, and to meet whenever there are immediate functions to be performed. Their judgment is respected and their decisions are final.

COACHES and TRAINERS

Every Wesleyan man comes in contact with the Physical Education Department, whether in filling his gym requirement, in intramural competition, or as a candidate for a varsity team.

Head of the department and team physician is Prof. William "Doc" Roberts, Harvard graduate and enthusiastic hand-shaker, who is best known on the campus for his popular two-hour Hygiene course.

George Gauthier, referred to as "Little G" and famous for his clever chapel speeches, is Director of Athletics and dynamic football and track coach.

Basketball and baseball coach is Ray Detrick, mentor of three successive championship basketball teams. His chief interests center around Betas, bridge, and Bun's.

Walter "Doc" Freeman, swimming coach and well-known physio-therapist, enjoys flunking gym cutters and creating intricate dance routines.

"Babe" Frump serves as director of intramurals, line coach, and fencing mentor. This year he was especially conspicuous at basketball games, acting as announcer and proudly calling attention to the new score board and electric time-clock.

Freshman coach and N. Y. A. boss is Jim Glancy, an ex-All-Ohio fullback. Serving as trainer is the efficient and good-natured Bill Hostetler.

This year the student cheering section was led by William Port. From the time he appeared on the chapel platform before the first game until the end of the season, he enthusiastically brought school spirit to the student body with the help of the other cheerleaders. Always ready to lead cheers during periods of time-out and between halves, they created a desire to win for members of their teams. During mass meetings on Friday they always instilled enthusiasm in the members of the student body for coming games.

“Slim” Somerville took over the job of football manager in the spring. With the help of the lower class assistants, his job was to take care of the equipment and be on hand during practice to care for minor injuries that the players received. Always ready to help the coach at any time, these boys are a necessity to the team. Bruce Smith was the efficiency expert in basketball. Allen Schmick was the senior manager for the baseball team of 1936, while Charles Edgerton managed the '36 track team. The managers start out as freshmen and are assigned various tasks by the senior manager. They work through their first three years, at which time senior managers are elected for the following year.

CHEERLEADERS AND MANAGERS

Talos and Mewhort

Duncan

Ernie Talos and Don Mewhort were named co-captains of last spring's Buckeye conference baseball champions. Talos pitched his junior year but last spring confined his duties to shortstop. He was one of the hardest hitters on the team and led the Detrickmen in home runs.

Mewhort played in the outfield during his first two seasons, and then last year Detrick shifted him to first base. His home run was directly responsible for tying the score in the second Marshall game and enabled the Bishops to go on to win the battle in the 12th inning.

Duncan was one of the leading performers on the track squad during his two years on the team. He ran the hurdles and also anchored the mile relay team in some meets. In 1935 he ran on the hurdle relay quartet which finished second at the Penn relays.

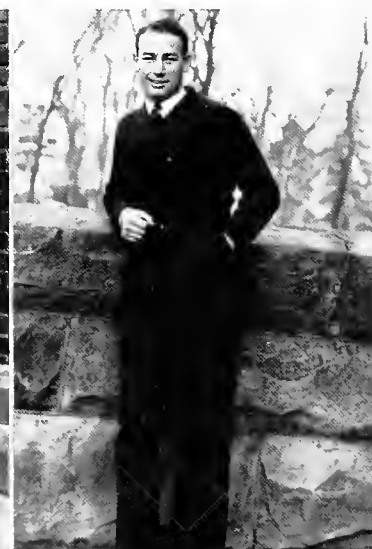

Hal Miller, diminutive guard, was chosen honorary leader of the football team. He was named on several All-Buckeye teams his sophomore year and continued to star at his post during his other two seasons of competition.

Johnny McAdams was given the honorary captaincy of the basketball five. He was the star performer on the team for three years, and this winter was chosen as captain of every All-Buckeye team picked.

After being pre-season favorites to cop the Buckeye title and doped to be one of the strongest teams ever to wear the Red and Black, the 1936 edition of the Battling Bishops proved to be a bitter disappointment, winning only one contest on their nine game schedule.

Coach Gauthier had a wealth of veteran material, as well as some promising sophomores, but for some unknown reason the team did not click except for the Miami and Rutgers games.

Starting off with a 53-0 defeat at the hands of the powerful Pittsburgh Panthers, the Red and Black were handed five straight losses, a new record for a Gauthier-coached eleven.

Dayton upset the dope bucket to win 21-7 in the Methodist's first Buckeye clash, and on the following Saturday Western Reserve was on the long end of a 20-12 count.

Xavier appeared at Selby Stadium the next weekend and walked off with a 13-6 win. Marshall College went on a rampage and accounted for the fifth loss by giving the Gauthiermen a 41-14 shellacking at Huntington.

FOOTBALL SQUAD

SEASON SUMMARY

Homecoming brought the league-leading Miami Redskins to Delaware, but the Bishops snapped out of their slump and won 13-0. Next weekend they played a scoreless tie at Cincinnati, snow and mud keeping both offenses to a minimum.

Ohio U. won the Dad's Day game 7-0, and in the season's finale the Ganthiermen played a 6-6 tie with Rutgers. This game was marked by frequent fumbles and misplays.

Eddie Hagaman was awarded the Bm Trophy as being the most valuable man on the squad. His returning of punts and open field running always made him a constant threat. Hal Miller, diminutive guard, was elected honorary captain at the close of the season.

Outstanding for the Bishops was the ball carrying of Hagaman, the all-around play of Jim McKinnie, center, and Fred Schroeder, end, and the punting and passing of Pat Brooks, sophomore fullback.

Seven seniors closed their careers in the Rutgers game. They were Bill Mussun, tackle; Jim Morgan, end; Johnny Heinlen, back; George Bauer, back; Joe Whalen, back; Miller and Hagaman.

Eighteen men were awarded their letters. They were Mussun, Whalen, Heinlen, Hal Miller, Hagaman, Morgan, Schroeder, Earl Miller, McKinnie, Banks, Glancy, Brooks, Cady, Stalter, Caputo, Malinovsky, Hulsbeck and Trubey.

PITT 53

WESLEYAN 0

For the first game of the year the Battling Bishops, plus several hundred hopeful fans, traveled to Pittsburgh. The result was a 53-0 trouncing administered by the famous Pitt Panthers.

While being defeated, the Methodists looked brilliant at times and green at others. They survived the game in good physical condition and should have learned a lot of football during that afternoon.

Center Jim McKinnie and sophomore fullback Pat Brooks showed that they would be stars of the current season.

Pitt tallied first, and then the Bishops got a break when McKinnie recovered La Rue's fumble. The Red and Black's offense failed, and they lost the ball. On the next play Marshall Goldberg, sophomore Panther halfback, galloped 76 yards for a touchdown, and then the rout of the Ganthiermen started.

The second half was a replica of the first with the Pitt blockers mowing down the Bishops while their fleet-footed backs ran for long gains. Coach Jock Sutherland's men showed the power and speed which later took them to the Rose Bowl.

Entering the game with a confident air, the Methodists soon found out that the Flyers were not going to be an easy touch. After being stopped on their first two touch-down drives, Wesleyan scored late in the second period when Brooks heaved a pass to Hagaman, and the latter ran 52 yards to the goal. Whalen kicked the extra point.

Near the end of the first half Dayton began throwing passes and, with only a minute remaining in the period, Zatkiewitz completed a long toss to Garcia, and the score was tied.

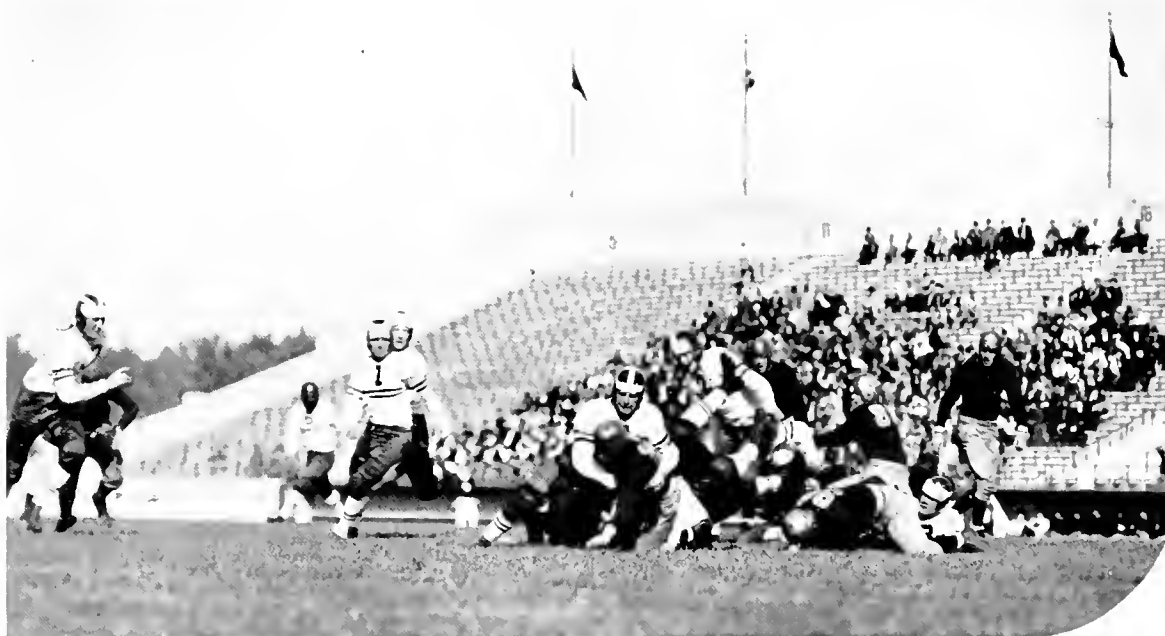

In the second half the Bishops' offense was stopped by the Flyer's line and Wesleyan never threatened to score again.

Dayton's sophomore backs, inspired by their touch-down, ran and passed for two more tallies in the last half.

Zatkiewitz scored the second marker on a plunge, and then on the last play of the game, Santos Garcia, the Mexican "jumping bean," ran through the entire Red and Black eleven for a 39-yard touchdown jaunt. It was Wesleyan's first home defeat since the Miami game in 1933.

Coach Gauthier started the second team, which had been outplaying the regulars in practice, and within eight minutes Reserve had scored 13 points. Zeh threw a long pass to Mike Rodak for one score, and sophomore Bankert ran 45 yards for the other.

Early in the second quarter the Red and Black received a break when Ed Cady recovered a Red Cat fumble on the enemies' one-yard line. Whalen sneaked through center for the touchdown but failed to convert the extra point.

Late in the same period Wesleyan scored again when Brooks threw a beautiful pass to Hagaman in the end zone. Heinlen's kick for the tying point was blocked.

Ray Zeh, Reserve's famed passer, went into action in the third period, and soon Bill Edwards' proteges had scored again. Zeh flipped a short toss to Wilson who lateraled to "Doc" Kelker, and the big Negro end went over for six points.

Hagaman saved another touchdown in the last quarter when he intercepted one of Zeh's passes in his own end zone and ran back to his own 40-yard line.

W. RESERVE 20 WESLEYAN 12

XAVIER 15

WESLEYAN 6

Wesleyan scored first, but, as in several other contests, they faltered in the later stages and allowed Xavier to come from behind to win by one touchdown.

The Gauthiermen showed plenty of offensive power in mid-field, but when they neared the Xavier goal they seemed to lack the final drive to put it over.

Near the close of the first quarter Schroeder partially blocked a Musketeer punt, and the Red and Black recovered on the 25-yard stripe. On the next play Haganman passed to Schroeder for the touchdown.

On the first play of the second period Neary, a substitute fullback, ran 61 yards for the tying points. A few minutes later Farrrough took Brooks' punt on his own 30-yard line and dashed 40 yards down the field before he was tackled from behind. Two plays later Cummins started to run around his own right end and then reversed his field, running down the sidelines for the winning touchdown.

MARSHALL 41 WESLEYAN 14

The night game at Marshall brought about one of the most disappointing defeats of the whole season. The West Virginians had been playing a good brand of ball all season, but the Gauthiermen were not prepared for the 41-14 trouncing that they received.

Marshall started right off and scored a touchdown before the Bishops realized that the game had begun. The Methodists took the lead a minute later when Schroeder blocked a Herd punt and Banks scooped up the loose ball, running 40 yards for a touchdown. Banks also converted the extra point.

Marshall scored again in the first period when Brooks' punt was blocked in the end zone. Then before the final gun sounded, the Big Green pushed over four more six-pointers while the hapless Bishops were scoring only once.

Hagaman made the last Red and Black tally when he ran 66 yards through the whole Marshall eleven. He got the ball by mistake but proceeded to make up for the error by a dazzling open field run that had the fans and the opposing team bewildered.

Rising to unprecedented heights, Coach Gauthier's scrappy eleven took a 13-0 decision from a hitherto undefeated Miami eleven. The Redskins came to Delaware leading the Buckeye pennant race and were strong favorites to continue their title march.

The enthusiastic Homecoming crowd was given a chance to cheer in the first period when Wesleyan marched straight down the field to the Redskin's 18-yard line. Then Pat Brooks, sophomore fullback, faded back and tossed a pass to Fred Schroeder who caught the ball in the end zone.

The rest of the first half was all in Miami's favor, but a strong Red and Black forward wall thwarted their offensive drives.

At the start of the second half, Miami, led by Jack Llewellyn and Jake Wagner, marched deep into Wesleyan territory, but the Gauthiermen's forward line rose up to the occasion and Wesleyan held for downs.

The Methodists scored again early in the last period when Jim McKinnie blocked a Miami punt on the Redskins' 12-yard line and recovered it in the end zone.

Playing on a muddy gridiron surrounded by a two-foot snow bank, Wesleyan and Cincinnati sloshed and slopped through sixty minutes of football without either eleven scoring.

The game might have ended differently, however, if London Gant, giant Negro fullback, had not been injured early in the game. The hard-driving Cincy back was carried from the field after he had carried the ball nearly the length of the field on the first four plays.

With Gant out of the line-up, the Bearcat's attack bogged down, and they were not able to threaten the Bishop's goal again. Haby threw plenty of passes, but an alert Methodist secondary batted most of them down, and the others were out of reach of the intended receivers.

Pat Brooks kept the Bearcats away from the Bishops' goal with his long punts. Time and time again he booted the ball far down into Cincy territory to halt a Cincinnati rally. Fred Schroeder and Mike Caputo played sterling defensive games. Ed Hagaman could not get away on the wet field for his usual runs.

WESLEYAN 0 CINCINNATI 0

OHIO U. 7 WESLEYAN 0

November 13th brought the Dad's Day game with the Bishops trying to oust the Ohio University Bobcats from first place in the Buckeye standing.

A small but speedy sophomore back, "Goody" Mareks, starting his first game for the Athens eleven, ran through and around the Methodists' linemen all afternoon, and finally in the third period broke away for a 35-yard scoring dash for the only score of the day.

During the first half both teams passed up several scoring chances. Ohio threatened early in the game, and just before the end of the first half Wesleyan moved the ball deep into the Green's territory.

Late in the final period the Red and Black advanced deep towards the enemy's goal, but they lost the ball on downs. A moment later Pat Brooks threw a 50-yard pass that just missed the outstretched hands of Jimmy Morgan as he sprinted across the goal line.

The game marked the final Selby field appearance of seven seniors. Fred "Butch" Schroeder played the last half of the fracas with his hand in a cast.

WESLEYAN 6 RUTGERS 6

The Gauthiermen's Thanksgiving Day clash at Rutgers was one of the dreariest games of the season from the spectator's point of view. Neither team played the brand of ball of which they were capable, and fumbles were frequent on both sides.

Rutgers was the first to score. The home eleven recovered a fumble and moved down to the one-yard line where the Bishops held them for three downs. On fourth down the Rutgers fullback drove over the goal for six points.

Wesleyan then went to work, and, with Joe Whalen leading the offense, they drove steadily into enemy territory. Whalen scored the tying touchdown on a plunge from the four-yard marker.

During the second half the Red and Black had numerous scoring chances, but they fumbled or lost the ball on downs on each occasion.

Joe Whalen played his best game of the year, his ball carrying being the only bright spot in the Bishops' offense. The line showed strength, and they stopped every Rutgers advance after the enemy's first touchdown early in the game.

The 1936-37 basketball season will be remembered as one of the most disastrous in the history of Wesleyan hardwood teams. The team won only three games on their 18 game schedule, and finished a poor fifth in the Buckeye conference standings.

One bright spot of the otherwise dreary season was the sensational play of Johnny McAdams. He and Bob Tavenner carried the brunt of the attack during the first half of the season, and when Tavenner became ineligible the second semester, McAdams carried the burden himself.

He was one of the best ball handlers ever to wear the Red and Black, and was the most feared man in the conference. His ability to shoot with either hand made him a double scoring threat, and at the end of the season he was on top of the Buckeye scoring race with 137 points.

“Mac” was named captain of every All-Buckeye team chosen by the scribes at the end of the season. Also in several polls he was named the outstanding individual player in the circuit.

BASKETBALL SQUAD

SEASON SUMMARY

Wesleyan started off the season by losing a 35-26 decision at Baldwin-Wallace. The next night they were given a lacing at Kent State by a 39-33 margin.

The team's next appearance was against Ohio University in a non-conference game. The fracas was part of a double-header played in the Cleveland Public Hall. The Bobcats won a listless battle, 36-29.

The Detrickmen's first home game was a return engagement with Baldwin-Wallace. Wesleyan led most of the game, but the Jackets' closing rush netted them a 29-25 win.

Against Toledo the Red and Black marksmen could not find the basket, and they were trounced 49-24. The Rockets were hot and set the pace all the way. In their first Buckeye encounter Dayton University supplied enough power to slip the Methodists their sixth straight defeat; the Flyers turned the trick 41-35.

Ohio University supplied a 36-31 beating, and then Marshall applied a 36-27 trouncing to the record. The game was ragged throughout, but the Bishops were worse than the Herd, so defeat number eight was chalked up.

The first victory of the season came at Miami when McAdams and Tavenner personally accounted for the 35-27 beating handed the Redskins. The game marked the first successful start for the Detrickmen in nine battles.

MID-SEASON HIGHLIGHTS

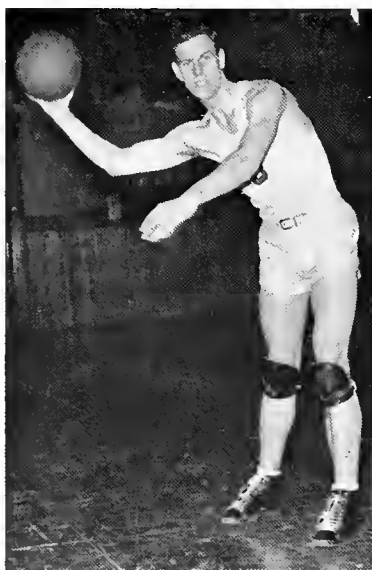

The Ohio River flood caused the postponement of the game scheduled at Cincinnati, and it was changed until after the regular card had been completed.

In a free-for-all battle featured by a fist fight between McAdams and Chuckovits, Toledo's high scorer, the Bishops dropped a 37-27 decision. Wesleyan got off to a 9-0 lead and held the margin till midway in the second half, but they wilted before the final drive of the Rockets.

Victory number two was registered at Oberlin where the Wesleyan five walloped the Yeomen 39-24 for their most decisive win of the season.

Their winning streak was extended to two straight when Miami was defeated 31-25 in a return game. McAdams and Tavenner again were the offensive stars for the home five.

In a game featured by lack of defense on both sides Dayton led the Bishops to the wire 50-40. This game marked the scoring battle between Bache, Dayton soph, and McAdams. The Bishop forward scored 17 points to 9 for the Flyer and lengthened his lead in the BAA race.

Ohio U. won their third victory of the year over the Methodists. There is a supposed jinx about a team winning three straight over another team in the same year, but the Bobcats applied a 43-23 scalping to the Wesleyan five in spite of such superstitions.

In their second Cleveland appearance the Bishops played one of the best games of the year, but Western Reserve was too good and the Red Cats won 49-44. McAdams and Kelker of Reserve put on an individual scoring battle with the Bishop ace winning 20-19.

Marshall continued its unbeaten league record by taking the Methodists to the tune of 54-30. Watson and Vest, Big Green offensive stars, were too much for the hapless Delaware five.

Cincinnati came from behind to win 28-26 in their first game with Wesleyan. Trailing 26-24 with 35 seconds to play Capelle scored twice to pull the game out of the fire for the Bearcats.

In the postponed game the Bearcats won their second in a row from the Detrickmen, this time the score being 29-24. McAdams closed his career by tallying 17 of the 24 points scored by the defending champions.

CLOSE SEASON WITH DEFEAT

The line-up at the end of the season was very different than at the opening whistle. Several of the men who were on the first team at the finish were obscure sophomores at the first game.

Johnny McAdams played regularly as did Bob Tavenner. When the latter became ineligible at the end of the first semester the team lost half of its scoring power.

Leo Walker broke into the line-up near the start and saw considerable action. Manus Glancy and Bud Davis, lettermen, alternated at Tavenner's position in the closing games.

Tracey Jones was taken from the intramural ranks, and he, along with sophomore John Rowe, alternated at the other forward. Rowe was handicapped by illness most of the season but played well when he got into shape.

At the end of the year letters were awarded McAdams, Jones, McKinnie, Glancy, Walker, and Davis. Tavenner will get his sweater as soon as he becomes eligible for inter-collegiate competition.

After finishing in the cellar of the Buckeye Conference pennant race in 1935, Wesleyan's rejuvenated baseball team pulled a big surprise and finished the 1936 spring campaign in a first-place tie with Ohio University.

Hard hitting along with the sensational pitching of Art Thomas was responsible for the meteoric rise of the diamonddeers.

CHAMPIONS OF '36

The team won eight games and lost two in Buckeye competition, and in non-league games they had two victories and three losses.

After their spring vacation trip to West Virginia had been snowed out, the Detrickmen opened the season with a two-game series against the University of Michigan. The Wolves outslugged the Bishops in the first game 14-2, and in the second, John Gee, their six foot nine inch south-paw, bested "Lefty" Cameron 5-2.

In the opening Buckeye encounter Thomas hurled the Red and Black to a 11-2 win. Every man on the squad got a hit while the Bobcats were collecting only two.

Ernie Talos was the hero of the Dayton game. The slugging shortstop pounded out three home runs and two doubles while his teammates were gaining a 22-6 win.

The team's first road trip almost proved disastrous, but they managed to break even in their two games. Ohio U. batted Thomas and his successors for 13 runs, while the Detrickmen were able to collect only five.

The next day at Marshall, Cameron and Thomas managed to partly subdue the slugging Herdsmen while the bats of Talos, Lockwood, Schroeder, and Whalen led a 17 run blast. The final score read 17-11 with the visitors from Delaware on the long end of the count.

A trip to Oberlin resulted in a 7-1 win for the Methodists. Dick Cameron baffled the Yeomen batters, while "Murderers Row" pounded out a barrage of base hits.

Wittenberg gave the Bishops a rough reception and sent them home nursing a 13-6 defeat. In this game Cameron developed a sore arm and was out of action for most of the remaining games.

Art Thomas took over the "iron man" pitching role and retired both Cincinnati and Miami. The Bearcats were defeated 12-6 and the Redskins 6-2.

In the best game seen at Edwards field all year Marshall was beaten 6-5 in a 13-inning battle. Thomas went all the way for the Red and Black, and after the first three innings he held the Big Green batsmen under control.

Wellman gave the visitors an early lead when he socked a home run with two aboard the bases in the third inning. Lockwood tied the count in the last of the seventh when he smashed out a four base blow with two teammates on base.

Marshall tallied again in the eleventh frame, but a homer by Mewhort knotted up the count and kept the Bishops in the game. In the last of the thirteenth Whalen's double combined with Talos's single drove in the winning run.

In Wittenberg's return engagement to Edwards field, the Bishops gave them an early lead but scored heavily in the late innings to mark up a 6-3 triumph.

The nine's second long road trip resulted in the Detrickmen gaining an even break in their two games. Miami trounced them 13-3, but they came back to whip Cincy 13-1. In their final game they clinched a share of the league title by outslugging Dayton the day before Commencement.

Coach Detrick had a hard-hitting combination which, put together with Thomas's fine hurling, combined to make a winning team and made the radical change in Wesleyan's place in the final Buckeye standings.

Art Thomas was the leading hurler in the Buckeye, winning eight games while losing one. Roger Lockwood, Joe Whalen, Ernie Talos, and Fred Schroeder led the hitters.

Detrick had as his starting line-up Don Mewhort on first, Joe Whalen at third, Ernie Talos at short stop, Jimmy Morgan on second base, Johnny McAdams, Roger Lockwood, Lou Banks, and Fred Schroeder in the out-field, and Thomas and Stover as the battery.

Ohio Wesleyan's chances of repeating their victory in last year's Buckeye pennant race were given a severe jolt when three veterans whom Coach Detrick was depending on to be regulars did not report.

Joe Whalen, Johnny McAdams, and Dick Cameron were not candidates for this year's nine. Cameron's loss leaves the Bishop mentor with only one dependable hurler, Art Thomas.

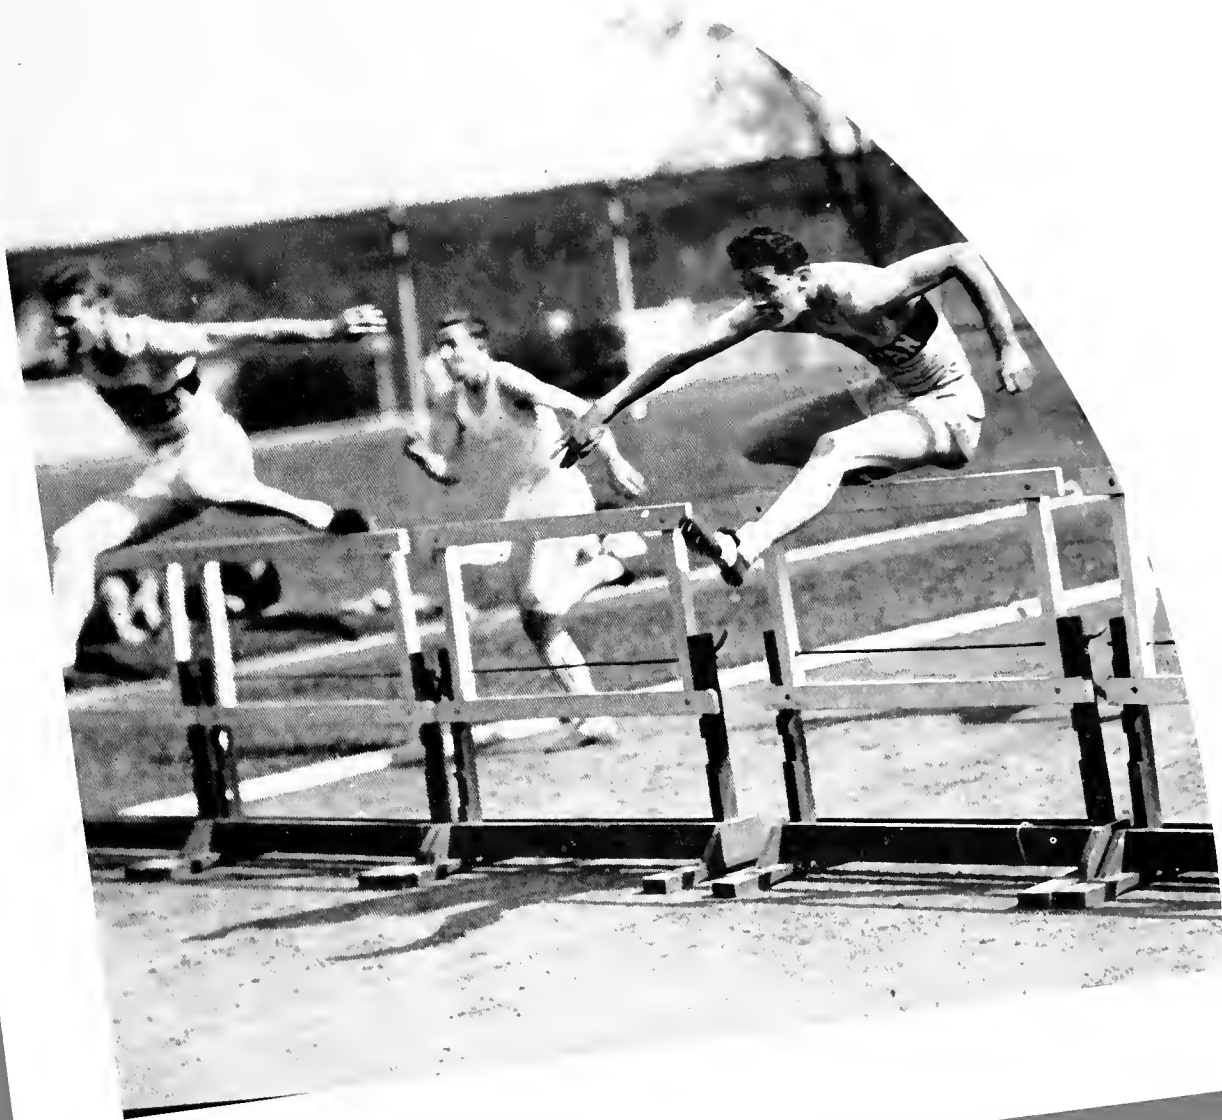

Thomas will bear the brunt of the hurling duties, while Hulsbeck and Morrison will be available for relief duty. Ollie Hess, sophomore sensation, and Glen Stover, a veteran, are scheduled to handle the catching.

Chase Knight, a sophomore, will probably hold down first base with the peppery Jimmy Morgan at second. Parks, another newcomer, may see some duty at short, while the third base job lies between Malcolm Lockwood, Bauer, and Hulsbeck.

Three lettermen, Fred Schroeder, Roger Lockwood, and Lou Banks are slated for the outfield.

Writing in mid-March it is hard to predict the outcome of the coming campaign, but even without the absent trio Wesleyan should finish high in the standings.

Completing the regular season undefeated and finishing a close second in the Buckeye meet, the Red and Black 1936 track team was one of the most successful in recent years.

Coach Gauthier's band of thin-clads vanquished five straight opponents in dual meets and came within $3\frac{1}{2}$ points of beating Miami in the annual conference meet.

The Redskins scored $66\frac{1}{4}$ points for first place while the Bishops tallied $62\frac{3}{4}$. Ohio U., the defending champs, placed third with $61\frac{1}{4}$ points. Cincy ended up with $28\frac{3}{4}$ and Marshall with 5.

Only two Methodist stars won individual titles, but the Bishops' ability to cop second and third places almost overcame the advantage of the six titles copped by the Indians.

Charlie Harmon won the broad jump, and Bob Recker took the high jump. In this event Recker broke the existing Buckeye record with his leap of six feet one and five-eighths inches. He had broken the mark several times during the season with a jump of six foot two inches but could not get that high in the meet.

SEASON SUMMARY

Gardner Allen got second in both sprints. He lost out to Mills of Miami in both the 100 and 220 because of bad starts. Richards and Duncan placed second and third in the high hurdles with the order being reversed in the 220 lows.

Hoke finished fourth in the two mile although he had to run the last 300 yards stiff legged. He pulled a muscle in his leg, but gamely finished the race.

Don Slade and Jim Esch finished second and fourth in the 440, while Minor and Herb Smith came in third and fourth in the half mile. Hollister got a fifth in the mile.

Snediker and Finan were fifth in the discus and shot. Hill was fourth in the pole vault, while Sell's toss in the javelin was good for a fourth place. Wesleyan's relay team trailed Miami and Ohio U. to the finish line in the concluding event on the program.

The Battling Bishops won their first dual meet of the season when they defeated the defending champions, Ohio U. A chilly wind hampered the efforts of the athletes but several brilliant performances were turned in. The final score was $69\frac{1}{2}$ - $61\frac{1}{2}$.

Gardner Allen and Fred Duncan each won two firsts to lead the scoring for the Gauthiermen. Allen won the sprints while Duncan captured both hurdle races. Charlie Harmon won the broad jump.

Halleck, Toppell, and Powell won six firsts to lead the losers. The former won the shot and the discus, and later in the spring was one of the outstanding weight candidates for the Olympic team.

Bob Recker was hampered by the cold weather and lost the high jump. Ohio U. won the mile relay by a large margin.

In a non-conference meet at Oberlin the Red and Black took a lopsided $98\frac{1}{2}$ - $32\frac{1}{2}$ victory. Wesleyan contestants dominated every event except the mile and two mile where they were able to get only one third place.

Duncan and Allen again dominated the hurdles and the sprints. The Red and Black trio of Finan, Carothers, and Snediker swept the shot put. Wesleyan also scored clean sweeps in the hurdles and the quarter mile run.

Surprising most experts, Wesleyan went on to upset the strong Miami squad in their next dual meet. The Bishops piled up an early lead, and although they lost the two mile and the mile relay, they managed to finish ahead by a $72\frac{1}{3}$ - $58\frac{2}{3}$ margin.

Cincinnati bowed to the strong Wesleyan aggregation by a 97-34 score. Wesleyan swept four events, and all together they won ten first places.

Allen won the 100 in 9.9 seconds, a new record for Wesleyan men. Recker and Finan also bettered their own field records in the high jump and the shot put.

Duncan lost a hurdle race for the first time when he hit a hurdle in the lows and finished third. Harmon won the broad jump and got a second in the low hurdles.

Slade, Esch, and Helms finished in that order in the 440. Cincy men won the mile, two mile, javelin, and discus.

In their final dual meet of the season the Ganthiermen vanquished the Denison tracksters 103-28. They won every first except the discus where they took second and third. Wesleyan swept four events in gaining their fifth triumph.

"Bud" Richards surprised the fans by taking first in both hurdle races. Fred Duncan injured his leg in the high hurdles and did not compete in the lows.

Gardner Allen won the sprints, and Bob Recker set a new field record while winning the high jump.

The team was more evenly balanced than in past years. For the first time in several seasons Wesleyan was well represented in the weight events. Dick Finan was a consistent point-getter in the shot, while Snediker in the discus and Heinlen and Sell in the javelin scored in every meet.

Finan, Snediker, and Sell each broke the Selby field record for Wesleyan men in their specialty. Gardner Allen established two new school marks in the 100-yard dash and the 220-yard dash.

Duncan, Richards, and Harmon all performed consistently in the hurdles and in several meets made clean sweeps of both races. Duncan was elected captain of the team at the close of the season.

At the end of the season Coach Gauthier awarded letters to 19 men. They were Captain Duncan, Allen, Recker, Harmon, Kent, Sell, Slade, Hollister, Richards, Heinlen, Snediker, Finan, Hoke, Smith, Keckley, Esch, Helms, Minor, and Hill.

As a result of their showing in the winter's indoor meets, Wesleyan's 1937 track team will certainly be a leading contender for the Buckeye title when the conference teams come to Delaware late in May.

Bob Recker will again be the best high jumper in the league and can be expected to raise his present Buckeye record. Charlie Harmon, another letterman, will defend his broad jump title and compete in the hurdles.

Mitchell will pole vault along with Fenton and Earhart, while Carothers in the javelin, and Snediker in the discus, will be certain point getters.

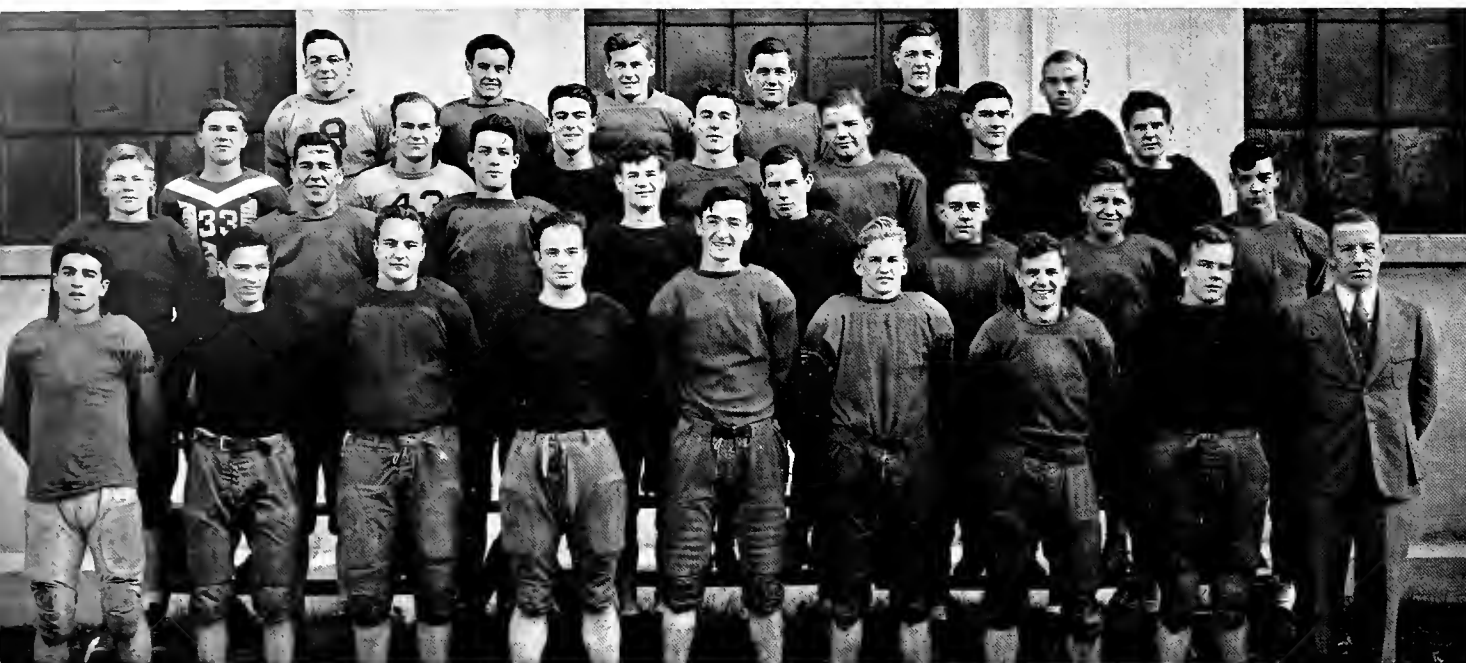

Most prominent among the sophomore candidates is "Gibby" Diehl who was unbeaten as a freshman. He competes in the hurdles, the broad jump, and the high jump. Pat Brooks will head the shotputters with Ed Cady a close second.

Pete Mitchell and Keckley will run the short sprints, while Jim Esch and McDaniel are quarter milers. Hugh Gilray, Stan Minor, and Herb Smith lead the half mile runners. Hollister, Dresback, and Ralph Hoke run the distance races.

Although they lacked in numbers, last fall's freshman football team showed up so well that Coach Gauthier is counting on several of the squad's stars to take over varsity positions next fall.

The team showed up exceptionally well at the guard positions and in the backfield. Pete Rardin will probably be in Hal Miller's guard position and several of the backs have a chance to break into the regular line-up.

The team did not play any scheduled games but scrimmaged the varsity and at the end of the season played a full-time game against the second team.

This spring the new line coach, Art Lewis, devoted most of his time towards developing the neophytes, and he was well satisfied with their development during the short period of time that he had to work with them.

Those who were awarded numerals were Bartlett, Cervellini, Dorsey, Donchess, Forsythe, Hass, Johnson, Kevan, H. Harrison, F. Harrison, Hamilton, Kessell, Mansfield, Michael, Nosker, J. Patterson, Rardin, and Talbert.

The freshman basketball team boasted of so many potential stars that Coach Ray Detrick is counting on using an entire sophomore team for the 1937-38 edition of the Battling Bishops.

Although the team did not play any regularly scheduled games they divided up into two squads and competed against each other in the preliminaries for the varsity contests; also they scrimmaged the varsity. At the end of the year Coach Jim Glancy recommended ten men for numeral awards.

Bill Rohr, former all-state forward from Massilon, was probably the most outstanding man on the team. His deadly shooting and flashy floor play will put him on the first five next winter.

Tim Kirchwehm performed creditably at center. His ability to score on follow-in shots will be a great asset to the team. Steve Donchess showed promise at both forward and center.

One victory and one loss was the record of the Gauthier-coached indoor track team during their abbreviated season. The team lost to Wayne University and won a close decision over the strong Western State Teachers College.

Later in the season the squad will compete in the Butler relays at Indianapolis, and may have a meet with Toledo University.

The team went to Detroit for their first meet and lost a 79-25 decision to Wayne. Pete Mitchell won the Bishops' only first place when he triumphed in the pole vault. Diehl scored three third places, and Brooks and Recker each won a second.

Wesleyan surprised the Teachers squad when they invaded Edwards gym, the final score being 54-50. Hollister won the mile and Brooks finished first in the shot.

Keckley came through to take the 220-yard sprint. Diehl copped the high hurdles with Harmon second; the result was reversed in the low barriers. Jimmy Esch won the quarter mile after getting left at the post.

INDOOR TRACK

SWIMMING TEAM

Although they lost six meets while winning five, Wesleyan's 1937 swimming team was the most successful Bishop squad in recent years.

Two sophomores, Joe and Ed Moran, were the sensations of the team; between them they broke five existing Edwards pool records. Gordon Weigle, senior free style man, was elected honorary captain at the close of the season.

The team climaxed their season by winning the Buckeye title at the first annual conference meet held at Cincinnati. The Red and Black splashers scored 56 points to 55 for Cincinnati. Ohio U., the third entrant, tallied 42 markers.

The natators scored wins over Ohio U. twice, Kenyon, Wittenberg, and Fenn. They lost meets to Kenyon, Carnegie Tech, Pittsburgh, Wayne University of Detroit, Michigan State, and Oberlin.

Mainstays of the squad besides the Moran brothers were Stan Minor in the backstroke, Carhart in the breast stroke, Kent, Weigle, Wilhelm, free stylers, and Jackson, backstroker.

TENNIS TEAM

Playing their first season of Buckeye competition, Wesleyan's tennis team finished the season with three wins, three losses, and three ties. Miami's league champions were the only squad to beat the Bishops twice.

Dayton and Cincinnati were both submerged 4-2 in the opening matches. Coach Wiley's proteges then went to Ohio U. and Marshall where they played a 3-3 tie with the Bobcats and defeated the Herd 4-2.

Cincy played a 3-3 tie in their return match and when Ohio University visited the Selby courts, they also tied the Methodists 3-3.

The first defeat of the season was inflicted by the Miami Redskins at Oxford, 6-0 being the count. Marshall appeared at Delaware a week later and was defeated 5-1.

In a non-conference battle Wittenberg gained a 6-0 triumph, and in their last match of the season the Red and Black lost a 5-1 decision to Miami.

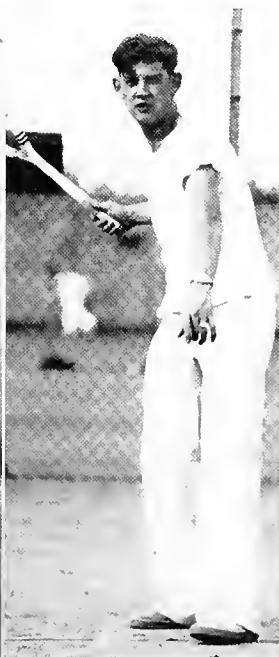

Four men, Art Russert, Neil McPhail, Rodney Ward, and Charles Bucher, carried the brunt of the Wesleyan attack in the singles matches. McPhail and Russert teamed together for one doubles combination while Bucher and Ward formed the other. Several others substituted in a few of the matches.

Winning three and losing six, Wesleyan's golf team had only a mediocre season last spring. None of the Bishop squad placed in the Ohio Intercollegiate meet, and the team's total score was out of the money also.

Miami's strong quartet took a 16-2 verdict over Prof. Marshman's team in their first match. Western Reserve's powerful aggregation eked out a 10-8 victory. Dayton's state championship squad took a $14\frac{1}{2}$ - $3\frac{1}{2}$ verdict at Dayton early in the season and then in a return engagement won 15-3.

Two of the Red and Black victories were over Wittenberg. Wesleyan won the first match 18-0, but in the second fray the Lutherans held them to a 12-6 score.

Oberlin was the other victim of the divot diggers, succumbing $13\frac{1}{2}$ - $4\frac{1}{2}$. Denison beat the Wesleyan crew at Granville 16-2, and Miami won their second in a row over the Bishops $13\frac{1}{2}$ - $4\frac{1}{2}$.

Lack of a suitable course for home matches and practice greatly handicapped the Red and Black. Some of their home matches were played at Sunbury and others at Columbus.

Four men, Henry Heepe, Andy Gordon, Roger Sharman, and Bill Russell, were awarded their letters at the end of the season. Ed Hagaman served as alternate.

The cross country team under the tutelage of Dean Somerville lost all four of their scheduled meets. Wooster, Muskingum, Miami, and Oberlin all took the measure of the Red and Black harriers. Four men, Scrimshaw, H. Smith, Minor, and Hoke, were awarded their varsity letters for their year's service.

The band made its initial appearance at the first home football game. Parading down the field in their red and black uniforms, they formed letters at the command of the drum-major. During periods of time out, they inspired the team with fighting spirit by their enthusiastic playing of the "fight song." During the half, they marched down the field forming words of greeting to the opposing team, and returned to stand at attention in front of the Wesleyan stands for the playing of the alma mater. The band traveled with the team to several out-of-town games, and helped cheer their team with great enthusiasm.

Following football season, the band held regular rehearsals every Tuesday and Thursday evening. In the Spring, the band gave a concert which added to their prestige. The performance compared favorably with those given by various college concert bands.

Officers for the year were Seymour Gardner, president; Oliver Brown, treasurer; and Crosby Jamison, drum-major.

ORCHESTRA

Cooperating with the obvious trend of better music on the campus, the orchestra performed many times during the current year, and was received enthusiastically everywhere. Under the direction of Prof. Hibbard, the orchestra initiated their season with a fall concert in Sanborn Hall. Following this symphonic presentation, the club accompanied the Singers' Club in the production of the "Messiah" in Gray Chapel. Between these two concerts, they presented chapel programs consisting of the music of their first performance. With the added prestige received from their previous engagements, the club traveled to Columbus to broadcast over a national hookup in the latter part of March. Following Spring vacation, the orchestra gave several performances in Stuyvesant Hall and in nearby towns. Completing a most successful season, they gave their annual concert at graduation. Music for next year's programs has also been in rehearsal.

FIRST VIOLINS: Counts, Gegenheimer, Husted, Kilgore, Olmstead, Simms, Slusser, Turner. SECOND VIOLINS: Clum, Foit, Gregg, Loeffler, Marshall, Metcalf, Robinson, Waites, Wright. "THE MESSIAH"

Before a packed house in Gray Chapel on the Sunday before Christmas vacation, the Singers' Club of Ohio Wesleyan, accompanied by the orchestra, presented Handel's "Messiah." The four soloists were Helen Holscher, contralto; King Kellogg, bass; Miss Thomas, soprano; and Joseph Cleeland, tenor. Supported by these four professional singers, these groups, consisting of one hundred and twenty mixed voices, thrilled the audience with their interpretations of the music of this great opera.

Professor Keller picked the best music from this great oratorio, and after many weeks of rehearsal, the efforts of these groups were awarded by the appreciation shown by music loving enthusiasts. Combining the abilities of these two groups, both of whom had gained prestige before this performance, many, along with Mr. Keller, declared the quality of their music surpassed any past performance. Under the guiding baton of Prof. Keller, the club gave the best performance of the "Messiah" ever given in Delaware.

Wesleyan Players opened their season with Noel Coward's popular comedy, "Hay Fever." Contrary to the accepted belief, it evoked spasms of laughter in place of sneezes when the contagion caught the audiences in Willis High School Auditorium on the nights of November 13th and 14th. From the opening of the curtain until the last line of the third act the audience did everything but the proverbial aisle-roll as they reacted to the side-splitting complications arising from the eccentricities of an aesthetic family. The manner in which the members of the cast re-lived the characters as conceived by the author made this play one of the best comedies ever presented by the Wesleyan Players. The characters were played by the following: Sorel Bliss, Audrey Wilcke; Simon Bliss, Robert Crosby; Clara, the maid, June Endean; Judith Bliss, Frances Oviatt; David Bliss, David Crandell; Sandy Tyrell, Robert Rittenour; Myra Arundel, Janet Kent; Richard Greatham, Charles Copenhaver; Jackie Coryton, Dorothy Stokes. Miss Hortense Moore deserves the credit for directing this dramatic score.

"HAY FEVER"

The second major production of Wesleyan Players during the current season was "Brittle Heaven," a play based around the life of Emily Dickinson, the "New English Nunn." Marjorie Molden, portraying the part of this great poetess, so sympathetically depicted her tragic love affair that many were in tears as the curtain fell. Her beautiful character interpretations caused some of those in the audience to remark that it was one of the best amateur productions they had ever seen. Dick Williamson handled the role of Emily's lover with an intelligence and charm consistent with his rating as one of the best amateur actors in Ohio Wesleyan. Ann Beasley, as Helen, presented a personality of capricious mobility, in contrast with the depth of character of Emily Dickinson. The extremely effective supporting cast included John Smith as Anstin Dickinson, Margaret Hardin as Sue Dickinson, Dorothy Sawyer as Mrs. Dickinson, Jean Stephens as Lavinia Dickinson, Charles Daniel as Mr. Dickinson, Sam Smith as Samuel Bowles, William Newton as Horatio Turnbull, and Willard Bryan as Gilbert Dickinson.

PYGMALION

Members of Theta Alpha Phi, honorary dramatic fraternity, presented for their annual production, "Pygmalion," a satire on class society written by George Bernard Shaw. Attempting for the first time to portray any of Shaw's characters, the cast was outstanding in its splendid interpretations. Peggy Cox, starring as Eliza, performed brilliantly as she transformed from a street wench into a lady of poise and beauty. Dave Crandell, versatile veteran, played the role of Henry Higgins, a bachelor with set ideas, with the ease and stage presence characteristic of his past performances. Ralph Higerd's interpretation of Eliza's father, Alfred Doolittle, a crafty minister for the poor, caused many laughs to come from the audience. Bob Rittenour also proved his ability in comedy by an excellent character interpretation of Freddy Eynsferd Hill. Frances Oviatt presented a typical landlady of a bachelor, showing a keen sense of human nature. Other members of the cast supported nobly the leads in this play.

There have been several subjects for debate this year, chief among which were the Pi Kappa Delta question, "Resolved: that the United States should pursue a Policy of Economic Internationalism," and the Delta Sigma Rho question, "Resolved: that Congress should be empowered to fix Maximum Hours and Minimum Wages for Industry." Cox, Fenton, Horn, and Ekey upheld the affirmative of the Delta Sigma Rho question on the main itinerary in the spring which included the University of Cincinnati, Asbury College, Georgetown University, and Kentucky Wesleyan University. These four, along with others of the debate squad, debated the aforementioned questions during the year in the more local areas. However, to Ohio Wesleyan students, the most interesting forensic clash of the season was the debate with two English debaters on the question, "Resolved: that the Constitution is a Menace to Life, Liberty, and the Pursuit of Happiness," the negative of which was defended by Horn and Cox.

The women's squad under the direction of Miss Lloyd debated both the main questions with Ohio and Pennsylvania colleges, and a women's team made a tour of Kentucky and Ohio colleges in the spring.

FRESHMAN DEBATE

Freshman Debaters are under the tutelage of Miss Pearl Lloyd and Mr. W. Roy Diem. In the hope of someday becoming varsity material, perhaps even with an eye toward Delta Sigma Rho, national forensic honorary, they meet at least once a week for practice verbal skirmishes. In addition, as a necessary part of their training and apprenticeship, they serve as timers and help swell the audiences at varsity debates.

This year their subject was "Resolved, that the government should own and operate all electric light and power utilities." The men's squad scheduled non-decision debates with Wayne University, Wittenberg College, Kenyon College, and Denison University; the girls' with Wittenberg College and Denison. Members of the men's team were Joseph Carpentieri, William Case, Russell Driver, Norman Gall, Owen Neff, Howard Steller, William A. Stewart, and John Umscheid, while the girls' squad was composed of Elizabeth Foster, Mary Jane Howe, Marian Plevney, Katherine Searles, Emily Turner, and Alice Williams.

These four student orators, Richard Maurer, Lucian Copley, Margaret Hardin, and Robert Horn were chosen in an elimination contest, which was judged by the faculty of the Speech department, to represent Ohio Wesleyan in the various oratory contests in which the university participates. During the year these four, adjudged the best orators of Wesleyan, presented their orations before audiences of Wesleyan students for the double purpose of preparing themselves for their respective contests and enlightening the audiences. Robert Horn and Lucian Copley both spoke on the subject of "Peace;" Horn was Ohio Wesleyan's representative to the National Peace Conference which was held in Columbus in May, while Copley spoke in the Ohio Intercollegiate Oratory Contest at Ohio University earlier in the spring. Margaret Hardin, the only woman orator on the squad, attacked "Gambling" both in chapel and in the Woman's Intercollegiate Oratory Contest held here in March, while Richard Maurer spoke on "Euthanasia" (the humane right of a doctor to kill). Maurer was Wesleyan's representative to the Civic Oratory Contest which was held in Detroit in May. Professor Roy Diem of the Speech department acted as general adviser and coach to the orators.

Freshman Players serves as an apprenticeship for those Thespians who aspire to membership in Wesleyan Players. The personnel of this organization is carefully determined, selections being made from the talent displayed during tryouts held in the fall. The judges of these tryouts are the officers of Wesleyan Players, Theta Alpha Phi, and the instructors of dramatics. During the first semester active participation is limited to ushering for the plays presented by Wesleyan Players. On meeting the one point requirement, the players are eligible for crew work on all productions and for roles in the studio plays presented in the stage room of Gray Chapel. Several of the outstanding studio plays are taken for production in other cities. Each spring a three act play is presented entirely by talent chosen from Freshman Players. This year the play was given in the stage room and was under the direction of Dave Crandell, president of the Wesleyan Players. The hours attained from ushering, crew work, and parts in the plays are credited to points toward Wesleyan Players. The officers this year were: Richard Ranyan, president; Betty Crawford, vice president; Kay Edwards, secretary; and Robert Jones, treasurer.

WESLEYAN PLAYERS

Wesleyan Players produced a number of splendid plays this year. Opening the season with a comedy, "Hay Fever," they followed with "Brittle Heaven," portraying the life of Emily Dickinson, and then Shakespeare's immortal drama, "Hamlet." At the Fun Fest, which is sponsored annually by Wesleyan Players, a new and much fairer method of judging the most original skit was used this year. Students had the rare privilege of seeing the Tatterman Marionettes produce the "Taming of the Shrew" and "Peer Gynt" at two different visits here. It was through the efforts of the Wesleyan Players that they were afforded such an opportunity. At the Little Theatre a very unique room has been furnished with the properties from many plays. It is known as the "Green Room" and is the pride of every one on the campus. Another new feature this year is the Wesleyan Players' key by which its members will be recognized from now on. After several years absence Miss Hortense Moore returned and has introduced the custom of serving tea and cookies at the theatre every afternoon from 3:30 to 4:30. Officers are Dave Crandell, president; Mary Weisell, vice president; Marjorie Molden, secretary; Bob Rittenour, treasurer.

GLEE CLUB

"The best club I ever had," declared Rexford C. Keller, head of the department of music and director of the Ohio Wesleyan Glee Club, following the winter concert in Gray Chapel. An extensive trip east, during Thanksgiving recess, climaxed by a broadcast in Radio Playhouse on the Palmolive hour, brought national fame to this group of thirty-five talented singers. Seven other programs were given in churches and schools in the larger cities visited by this club. Following Christmas vacation they presented several concerts in nearby towns and gave radio performances in Cleveland and Cincinnati. Numbers sung during the current season were of a classical nature and compared most favorably with the music of other college glee clubs. Plans are now being made for an even more extensive trip next year and selections to be sung have been in rehearsal. Robert Eastman was soloist and Tom Weaver was president and accompanied the Glee Club, while Frazier Shipps acted as manager.

Professor Rexford C. Keller, after directing the Glee Club on a successful trip east during Thanksgiving vacation, toured Michigan, Indiana, and Illinois with the Singers' Club during Spring vacation. A select group of forty mixed voices from this organization thrilled radio and church audiences throughout the country. Letters proved that their music was appreciated as much as the ever popular Glee Club.

Earlier in the current season, this group cooperated with the Glee Club and orchestra to present Handel's great oratorio, the "Messiah." Remaining active throughout the year, the members presented a radio concert in Cleveland, and sang several programs in nearby towns.

Students, showing that they appreciated the efforts of the Singer's Club, attended the home concerts in large numbers. The musical organizations on this campus have provided Ohio Wesleyan students with a great emotional outlet and have gained for themselves a high prestige in the minds of the student body.

Officers for the year were Joan Sullivan, president; August Dove, secretary; William Lacy, manager; and James MacCampbell, librarian.

Membership in the Home Economics Club is open to anyone taking a course in the department. At meetings held once a month under the supervision of Miss Bertha Titsworth, head of the department, phases and problems of Home Economics are discussed, and occasionally outside speakers are asked to appear on the program.

The first meeting of the club was in the form of a tea at Miss Titsworth's Delaware apartment, which she has furnished with Chinese curios and antiques. As another social function, a Christmas party was held. At one of the meetings, Mrs. T. C. Badley, formerly of India and this year a resident of Delaware, spoke on Home Economics and the role it played in India. Miss Barbara Dutterer, an addition to the department second semester, also appeared as guest speaker, telling of her experiences while a student at Columbia University. "Shoes All Over the World" was the subject of a demonstrated lecture by Mrs. James Capehart. In addition, at Christmas time, members of the club treated a family of needy children to a shopping excursion, helping them select their clothes.

"HOME EC" CLUB

SOCIOLOGY CLUB

The Sociology Club, open to any student who has enrolled in at least one course in the Sociology Department, is under the general supervision of Professors Sarvis and Fox. This year the club adopted two new policies, namely, that of open membership, and that of bringing in outside speakers to present the various aspects of vocational social work, to supplement the theoretical material covered in the classroom. Among the speakers were Miss Mary Gilbert of Hiram House in Cleveland, Mr. D. J. Hornberger, Treasurer of the University, who spoke on his work with the Home Owner's Loan Association in Washington, Judge W. L. Glesenkamp of the Delaware Juvenile Court, Mr. W. I. Newstetter, acting Dean of the Graduate School of Applied Social Sciences of Western Reserve University, and Dr. Gordon, Director of the State Bureau of Juvenile Research of Columbus.

Meetings were held once a month with William Walton, president of the club, presiding. Other officers were Janet Williams, vice president; Miriam Neese, secretary; and Eleanor Woodard, treasurer. By way of social functions, a banquet was held at Bun's, and at many of the meetings, refreshments helped to insure a large attendance.

ORCHESIS

Orchesis, women's dance honorary, is opened to all those who have attained a certain skill in the field of the creative dance. At Tuesday night meetings Miss Thelma Wagner, club sponsor, directs the members in technique practice and in original composition. Leaders in the field of the dance are discussed at cultural programs, which are presented twice a month. One of the members, Josephine Hughes, who spent a summer at the Bennington School in Vermont studying under Miss Martha Graham, is often called upon to demonstrate techniques learned there.

Entrance requirements include a period of "apprenticeship" in Junior Orchesis, the ability to pass an examination on technique, and the presentation of a group and a solo composition before the members of Senior Orchesis.

In accordance with its policy of bringing to the campus each year some outstanding dance figure, Orchesis presented this fall Doris Humphrey, Charles Weidman, and group. Also, as part of the Monnett Weekend program, a dance drama was presented, featuring all original dances and costumes.

Swimmers' Club is divided into two separate groups: Senior and Junior Swimmers' Club. Requirements for Junior Swimmers' Club consist of floating one minute, doing a headfirst dive, and swimming four lengths of the pool using two different strokes. In order to become a member of Senior Swimmers' Club, a girl must have passed the Red Cross Senior Life Saving test; she must swim twenty-five laps for endurance, swim six different strokes two laps each, perform racing starts and turns, and perform three dives of which one is a straight front and two are optional.

Swimmers' Club has carried on a varied program this year. Ohio State and Wesleyan have met together at two different times; once to discuss the common problems of organization and once to enjoy a splash party in the beautiful Ohio State swimming pool. Also on February 25th, the Junior Swimmers' Club had a party for the Senior Swimmers' Club. On March 16th, the Swimmers' Club sponsored athletics for both men and women in the gymnasium and pool. Annually there is a playday at Cincinnati, and this year the club was well represented there. In the spring of each year this club gets together for a picnic and swim somewhere in the vicinity of Delaware.

For years there has been an organization on the Ohio Wesleyan campus known as the "W" Clan. It is only in the last year or so, however, that this organization has had any specific function or purpose. Whereas previously "W" Clan was merely a collective term for men who had received sports letters, at present it is an active organization of outstanding athletes who have received their letters in some sport, major or minor, and who have banded themselves together for an admirable purpose—service. This is expressed in many ways such as in the promotion of school spirit and of interest in all athletic sports, in aiding deserving athletes, in facilitating various sports events by ushering and ticket-taking. The "W" represents more than athletic accomplishment; it has become a symbol of service. One of the very apparent results of the "W" Clan's new policy is the increased interest in intramural sports which has come about as a direct result of the Clan's efforts.

Jim McKinnie was "W" Clan's president this year, while Lou Banks served as vice president and Stan Minor held office of secretary-treasurer.

"W" CLAN

The Woman's Athletic Association, with Miss Carolyn Tarbell as faculty adviser, includes all feminine devotees of college athletics. Membership is elective, requiring active participation in three seasons of sport.

This year the association was instrumental in introducing to the campus several new activities. For example, an Onting Club was organized, which sponsored a hamburger fry and a retreat at the W. A. A. cabin site. Incidentally, it is hoped that the cabin will be completed in one more year. Also, badminton was introduced as a new girls' sport.

Probably the most publicized of W. A. A.'s innovations was its Mardi Gras, a carnival presented as part of the University social program. This was a stag affair, held in the gym and featuring Jimmy Raschel's black band.

In addition, W. A. A. sponsored sorority intramurals and entertained freshmen girls at a party to explain the point system. As a climax to the year, representatives were sent to the Cincinnati Play Day, and Frances Bailey and Jean Hagesfeld attended an athletic convention at Vassar.

Officers were Beth Chambers, president; Louise Duffield, vice president; Mary Lou Miller, secretary; and Sue Martin, treasurer.

Y. W. C. A. CABINET

Y. W. C. A. Cabinet, of which each Y. W. Committee Chairman is a member, meets on alternate Sunday mornings to discuss committee work and campus and personality problems. Acting as adviser is Miss Esther Ostlund, last year a Y. W. secretary at Northwestern, and capable of discussing with her girls anything from choice of a life-work to choice of a husband.

This year's cabinet was unique in that it obtained Panhel's sanction for Big Sister-Little Sister visiting during rushing. At the Fall Retreat at Camp Wildwood, plans for the year were formulated and talks were given by Mrs. Sheridan, Prof. Sears, and the Somerville's.

Wednesday night meetings, always well attended by sorority pledges eager to earn merits, were unusually well planned, with Dean Fretts, Mrs. Somerville, and Professors Fields and Dunham appearing during the year. At the Southern Ohio District Conference in Columbus, Wesleyan delegates had charge of the worship services. In addition, improvement was made in the Y. W. office in Edgar with the introduction of new drapes and a subscription to "Vogue."

Officers were Sally Frampton, president; Molly Lacy, vice president; Wilda Legge, secretary; and Marjorie Molden, treasurer.

Sophomore Council is composed of girls who, at the end of their Freshman year, were selected as outstanding in service and interest in the Y. W. C. A. This year, Sophomore Council has endeavored to carry out a program entirely different from any program established by the former members of this group. During the entire year, this body of representative girls has acted as a discussion group. For several months, problems pertinent to every college girl were thoroughly discussed in an effort to bring about better understanding and concordance among the students. Besides having leaders from the group itself, Sophomore Council was privileged to have as guest speakers, Miss McCue, Miss Montgomery, Mrs. Hollister, and Miss Ostlund. These speakers, all from our own campus, presented more mature and very interesting ideas on the subjects under discussion. The last half of the year, the group discussed campus problems and tried to formulate means of eliminating some of the evils prevalent on the Ohio Wesleyan campus.

Margaret Radabaugh, president, and Jane McKinney, secretary, together with Miss Ostlund, have made Sophomore Council a significant and worthwhile understudy to Y. W. C. A. cabinet.

The Young Men's Christian Association on the Ohio Wesleyan campus is a living and growing organization. These young men, under the leadership of Dean Somerville, are united together by common loyalty for the purpose of building Christian personalities within a Christian society. Throughout each school year this organization serves the student body in many practical ways, and its primary function is to teach Christianity. The service of the Y. M. C. A. begins early in the year, and ample opportunities are presented to aid all university men in leading useful, noble, and abundant lives. Through its elected councils and discussion groups the "Y" solves campus problems. During the year representatives from these groups migrate to other campuses where they may compare ideas and methods in the teaching of Christian living. The association also endeavors to make the student body more alert to future world problems with which they will be confronted, and sponsors renowned speakers for chapel lectures. The effectiveness of the Young Men's Christian Association is becoming stronger each year, and its aid to incoming freshmen is looked upon as one of the most helpful of all college activities.

Y. M. C. A.

For many years the Y. M. C. A. Freshman Council has served as a guiding hand to incoming freshmen men. This task involves many problems such as finding suitable living quarters, information on freshmen courses, the location of buildings and fraternity houses, and a display of the campus and the town of Delaware. Most important of all assignments is that of helping each new man to adjust himself to campus life. The council has various means of doing this and begins its program by introducing the two freshmen classes (men and women) at the annual Frosh Mixer. This affair is sponsored by both Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. During the first few eventful days following registration the freshmen find the Y. M. C. A. handbook most helpful, and the council prides itself on the reputation gained by this publication. Aside from helping freshmen the Y. M. C. A. also holds conferences in which it discusses means of doing social work. This year under the leadership of William Hollister and Edward Cady, community centers have been established at the Children's Home and in the poorer districts of the city in order to provide recreation for the underprivileged. The council this year is being guided by Louis Wolter.

BIBLE AND FRIARS' CLUBS

Two of the religious organizations on the Wesleyan campus are the Bible Club, whose members are those having a two point average in two Bible courses, and the Friars' Club composed of ministerial students. John Strout of the Bible Club and Robert Kelley of the Friars are presidents of their respective groups.

The English Writers' Club, open to any student who submits a sufficiently high quality piece of creative writing, sponsored this year a Sulphur Spray issue in imitation of the Coronet magazine. President was Helen Stevens, who succeeded Gerald Manypenny second semester, while Prof. Ritter served as advisor.

The Press Club, open to any Wesleyan student interested in journalism, was reorganized this year with Richard Weir as president and Ruth Logeman as secretary-treasurer. For the most part, membership included active members of the Transcript, Le Bijou, and Sulphur Spray staffs. This year the club took on the aspects of an honorary, in the absence on the campus of Pi Delta Epsilon, national journalism honorary.

Meetings held on alternate Thursday nights featured as guest speakers outstanding journalistic figures from neighboring Ohio cities. Richard Darrow and Paul Jones, Editor and Managing Editor respectively of the 1936 Transcript and now of the Columbus Citizen, were among the guests. Others included Gilson Wright, Director of the Ohio Wesleyan News Bureau, who reminisced about his experiences on the Transcript as an under-graduate, and Beverly Kelly, former student-body president and now press agent for Ringling Brothers' Circus. Professor Harry Wood, head of the college journalism department, spoke on feature writing for magazines. In addition, the club drew up and adopted a new constitution, making attendance requirements stiffer and stating that membership be voted on by the club. The year was climaxed by a dinner meeting and social hour at Bun's.

MORTAR BOARD

Membership in Mortar Board, national senior women's honorary, is a means of recognizing those outstanding in leadership, scholarship, and service, and is said by some to be the highest honor toward which a college woman may aspire. New members are announced at a chapel capping ceremony, a traditional feature of Monnett Day weekend. Nancy Badley was President.

Omicron Delta Kappa, the national men's honorary which was founded at Washington and Lee University in 1914, has this year raised its entrance requirements to limit membership. Under the new provisions, an aspirant must not only have a point average of 1.7, a strong record of accomplishment in activities, but must also pledge his honesty in all scholastic work. Ford Ekey was president this past year.

Delta Sigma Rho, the national forensic fraternity for both men and women, was founded at the University of Chicago and was established on the Ohio Wesleyan campus in 1907. Wesleyan was the first scholastic institution to receive a charter, although there were chapters present on the campuses of many of the larger universities.

The purpose of Delta Sigma Rho is to promote and support public speaking and to develop and maintain a high standard of intercollegiate debate and oratory. Its membership is open to juniors who have a general point average of 1.5 and who have participated in two debates, or in one debate and one oration, in two consecutive years. In addition members must be approved by the faculty of the speech department. This year on March 19 Delta Sigma Rho was host to the Ohio Intercollegiate Oratory Contest for women in which Margaret Hardin took part. The society sent Ford Ekey, Catherine Marshall, Margaret Beamer, and Robert Horn as its representatives to the national Delta Sigma Rho tournament held at the University of Wisconsin. Bill Cox was president for the current year, with Catherine Marshall as secretary-treasurer. Frances Oviatt held the post of historian.

KAPPA DELTA PI

Kappa Delta Pi, honorary educational society, has followed an unusual and varied program this year. At one of the meetings they had a demonstration of the things which might be useful to teachers. The use of the radio and mimeograph in the schools were discussed. Members were shown how to make slides for projectors and were instructed in how to use a movie camera projector. At the same meeting, movies of the style show presented at Stuyvesant last year were shown. At a recent meeting Mr. Smith of the Delaware High School and Dr. Mathews of the Education Department spoke about the Educational Convention held at New Orleans in February. New ideas and valuable information were presented in their talks. One of the events of the year is the alumni breakfast given the Saturday before Commencement.

A large group was initiated this fall. It is the purpose of the fraternity to uphold the ideals of a teaching career, to foster interest in educational problems, and to maintain high scholastic standards. Mrs. Crowl is the faculty adviser. Officers for the year were James Newman, president; Charles Daniels, vice president; Eleanor McGaughy, secretary; and Charlott Llewellyn, treasurer.

THETA ALPHA PHI

Theta Alpha Phi, national dramatics honorary, produces but one play annually. This year the members concentrated their efforts on George Bernard Shaw's comedy, "Pygmalion," starring Peggy Cox and Dave Crandell.

It is interesting to note that the Theta Alpha Phi chapter at Ohio Wesleyan was the second of sixty-eight chapters in this country, the first having come into existence at the Speech Convention at Chicago in 1919. It is also interesting to note that a former member of our faculty became the first Grand President of the fraternity. This fraternity is made up of those who are outstanding on the stage or in technical work, and it intends to bring about a closer relationship among all those who are interested in dramatics.

Election of new members are made twice a year by the active members. New members this year were initiated at the National Convention at Bloomington, Indiana.

Theta Alpha Phi meets once a month to discuss problems pertinent to all those in dramatics and to discuss ways of promoting dramatic activities at Wesleyan. Officers for the year 1936-37 were Dick Williamson, president; Peggy Cox, vice president; Ruth Peck, secretary; and Ralph Higerd, treasurer.

Phi Beta Kappa, national honorary scholastic fraternity, was founded at William and Mary College in 1776. Although it was originally a secret social and literary society, it soon became the leading literary and philosophical society in America. At the present time there are one hundred and fourteen colleges and universities represented in this society. Eta chapter of Ohio was installed at Ohio Wesleyan in 1907, and since that time almost a thousand members have graduated from here. Freshmen and Sophomores who have maintained a high point average are given recognition by Phi Society.

This year the initiation services were held on a different basis because the local chapter thought that the initiation banquet and annual address should be open to a wider circle of faculty and students. Special interest this year lay in the fact that Dr. T. M. Parrott, the son and the nephew of former bearers of the Ohio Wesleyan cane, was the initiation speaker.

Officers are H. C. Hubbart, president; Mrs. J. H. Freeman, vice president; A. C. Conger, secretary; C. E. O'Neal, treasurer; and Ruth Davies and W. A. Manuel, executive committee.

With an All-American rating going to the 1936 Le Bijou the 1937 staff began with somewhat of a feeling of trepidation. Having planned the theme in the spring, and having developed it in Canton during the summer, the staff returned in September with a completed dummy and a strict schedule. Consequently, for the first time in Le Bijou history, no member of the editorial staff had to stay over to work on the book during any vacation, and the business staff, for the first time in recent years, sold over a thousand dollars worth of advertising. As a result of the cooperative spirit of staff members, Le Bijou office became "the place where good friends meet."

The Ohio Wesleyan Transcript passed the seventieth year of its existence, under the editorship of Paul Merwin, who through his column, created a great deal of interest in Wesleyan tradition and problems. Managing Editor Harold Dunham jovially talked his proteges into learning something about journalism, and under the guiding hand of Don Newton, the semi-weekly enjoyed the greatest circulation in its history and an amount of advertising far in excess of previous years.

The bulk of editing was on the shoulders of the issue editors. Conservatism and close cooperation with the university administration were outstanding features of the 1936-37 Transcript.

What the Lampoon is to Harvard the Sulphur Spray is to Ohio Wesleyan. Started last year by Pi Delta Epsilon, the Spray has this year become an independent publication, presenting Wesleyanites with photography, fashions, jokes, cartoons, art, gossip, etc. Moreover, it offers an excellent opportunity to those aspiring young authors desirous of seeing their works in print. The Spray is a truly constructive force in student life, acting as an open forum for the discussion of important college questions. Finally, as a result of its exchange of art and worded material with college magazines of its like, the Spray has brought Wesleyan's campus in closer bond with the campuses of other colleges.

James Newman is general manager of the magazine, while the editorial staff of twelve is directed by Don Newton, managing editor, and Robert Schmidt, associate editor. Charles Harmon, business manager, heads a business staff of eight. These two staffs, along with the art staff, furnish Wesleyan its "college humor!"

In the words of President Bae Stringfellow, Panhellenic Council, of which each sorority president is automatically a member, was characterized this year by "an unusual cooperative spirit, there being no disciplinary problems and no violations of rushing rules."

Office-holding rotates yearly among the sororities according to the order of founding on the campus, and this year the executive positions were held by Bae Stringfellow, president; Gwendolyn Williams and Jane Burkhardt, secretaries; and Gladys Plocher, treasurer. Miss Fretts, as Dean of Women, acted as adviser.

With rushing providing the first business of the year, the council found it necessary to hold meetings daily throughout the trying two weeks. The pledge quota was set at sixteen Freshmen, three transfers, and an unlimited number of upperclassmen; and an unusually lenient attitude was taken in respect to upperclass associations with Freshmen. The Council even set aside special hours for Big-Sister calling and permitted a Y. W. party in Stuyvesant Glen.

With rushing over, a Pledge Mistresses' Council was organized under the chairmanship of Sue Martin; and in cooperation with W. S. G. A., required Freshman house meetings replaced pledge meetings once a month.

COUNCIL OF

In February, Panhellenic cooperated with the Inter-Fraternity council in sponsoring the Greek Conclave, a biennial affair which brought to the campus national representatives of each fraternity and sorority. Miss Irma Voigt, Dean of Women at Ohio University, and Mrs. Allen B. Whitney, former Dean of Women at Wesleyan, were among the outstanding speakers.

Second semester, at the suggestion of Miss Montgomery, the Council adopted a new policy that sorority initiations be held within one month after the issuing of first semester grades. This new plan proved very successful, and it was particularly appreciated by both professors and the pledges.

Probably the most drastic change made was in the reorganization of the personnel of the council beginning next year—a provision being made that for a trial period of two years, each sorority shall be represented by some underclass member as well as by its president. No underclass member shall be entitled to hold office, however.

In addition, the Council planned for four tea dances, financed its own section in the Freshman Women's Handbook, met with the new Council to draw up next year's rushing rules, and climaxed the year with a banquet honoring the incoming Panhellenic members.

OUR SORORITY CHAPERONS

The sorority chaperons serve, one might say, as jacks-of-all-trade. If anything goes wrong with the fixtures or plumbing, it is the sorority chaperon who is called. If the girls happen to run out of dishes or food for a banquet, they turn to the house mothers with entreaties. It is true that we could not get along without these charming women, for they are not only our advisers, but our friends. They bridge the gap between home and college.

INTER FRATERNITY COUNCIL, FIRST SEMESTER

The Interfraternity Council, composed of all fraternity presidents with Dean Somerville as adviser, meets every two weeks to promote better understanding among the Greeks and to suggest policies toward the increase of chapter efficiency. This year, during the first semester the Council's duties ranged from the ordering of freshmen caps to the granting of permission to smaller fraternities to use freshmen in intramurals. Also, three new policies were put into effect—the organization of a prep-master's council, the formation of a council of pledge-class presidents, and the enforcement for the first time of the 15 pledge quota. During the semester, Mr. H. M. Shipps sought the council's aid in the New Student Program, and Prof. Russell B. Miller asked for cooperation in the drive to locate missing library books. As a final act, the committee for the Greek Conclave, a second semester function, was appointed with Bill Searles as chairman, Bill Mesloh, Hugh Wehrly, Frazier Shipps, Bob Burton, and Ralph Higerd.

INTER FRATERNITY COUNCIL, SECOND SEMESTER

Second Semester the Interfraternity Council was faced with the task of planning for, in conjunction with Panhellenic, the biennial Greek Conclave. Held the first weekend in February, it brought to the campus national representatives of each Greek organization, in an attempt to realize its motto, "Fraternities Facing Forward." The program included a formal banquet at Stuyvesant with addresses by Dean Voigt of Ohio University and by Mr. Cecil Wilkinson, editor of The Phi Gamma Delta, discussion groups led by national officers on such subjects as rushing and pledge-training, the Conclave Ball, and a Sunday morning Convocation.

Also, this semester, the Council, in addition to discussing the perennial problem of rushing ethics, adopted a new policy of having the newly-elected fraternity presidents meet with the old council in the spring, so as to insure a smoothly continuous working organization from year to year.

FRAT. HOUSE MOTHERS

Many are the hardships which fraternity house mothers have to endure, but their tolerance and understanding draw the respect of all their boys. Chaperoning on date nights, they become acquainted with the girls and thus are able to advise the boys. Wesleyan is proud to say that she is one of the few schools in which the fraternities have house mothers. They are to be commended for their influence on the high moral standing of Wesleyan men.

FIJI LAND

Le Bijou OF 1937 · · OHIO WESLEYAN UNIVERSITY Delaware, Ohio.

DON A. PURVIANCE, Editor-in-Chief

May 1, 1937

Dear Fellow Students,

The work of successfully putting out a yearbook of such proportions as Le Bijou is far from a one-man job. Therefore, at this time I would like to publicly express my thanks to the following for the splendid cooperation that they have given me this past year.

Probably of primary importance was the efficient and wholehearted cooperation given me by the staff of the 1937 Le Bijou. Ruth Logeman, Women's Editor, has been everything any editor could want, and more. She has been largely responsible for the success of the writeups in this annual. Besides her working contributions, I have valued her cheery disposition and her friendship this past year.

It was largely through the efforts of Paul Bennett, Jack Davis, and Mary Alice Creager that it was possible to finance the largest Le Bijou in Wesleyan history. I have deeply appreciated the assistance given me by Ed Taylor in writing up the entire Sport Section of this year's book.

I have thoroughly enjoyed working with my friends, Miss Bodurtha and the congenial Bas Fees. The photography in the 1937 Le Bijou speaks for itself.

The Brown Publishing Company and The Canton Engraving Company have maintained, if not surpassed, the high grade printing and engraving that have always made Le Bijou among the top-notch college annuals. I want to thank The S. K. Smith Cover Company for their thorough and extensive research to satisfy our demands for the cover of the 1937 Le Bijou.

Now, one more remark and my brief, yet highly enjoyable, career as a journalist will undoubtedly be ended. May I wish the staff of the 1938 Le Bijou the best luck, and I sincerely hope that they will profit by our errors.

Wesleyanally yours,

Don

your copy of Le Bijou is bound in a Molloy cover, it will continue for years to remind you of scenes and faces and happenings on Main Campus. Its durable material and rugged construction constitutes a perfection your book deserves.

The reproduction of Gray Chapel is characteristic of the careful modelling and rich embossing which have made Molloy covers the standard for comparison.

This page is dedicated to my good friends, the Seniors of Ohio Wesleyan, who will soon find out when they start out on the main highway of life that one's thumb is rather a futile thing with which to secure a lift on this thoroughfare.

I hope that your work in the Bunology Course will prove of sufficient worth to you in your contacts with fellow beings, that you can look back and consider the hours spent at Buns as having a practical value.

For the sixth consecutive year "Le Bijou" carries the imprint "Engravings by Canton."

These six books speak for themselves, and their ratings in national competition tell for "Le Bijou" staffs the story of hard work well done and intelligent efforts well directed.

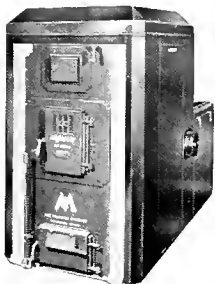

We take a pardonable pride in the part our organization contributed to these books, and a keen pleasure in our personal contacts with the staff members.

FOR over thirty years, The Majestic Company has enjoyed an enviable record of most satisfactory service in the heating field. Many thousands of discriminating buyers have chosen a Majestic furnace as the outstanding value in efficiency, durability and low-cost heating.

There is a Majestic Warm Air Heating Unit for practically every requirement, from a five-room bungalow to a sixty-room fraternity house. Five different types of furnaces, with twenty-seven sizes, offer a range of equipment and price for residential and many other types of building.

Majestic engineering of equipment and installation for the modern air conditioning heating systems, has earned a place of leadership in this field. Heating units for hand firing, oil burners, gas burners and stokers are produced in most attractive as well as efficient designs. Some of these types are illustrated.

Literature on Majestic heating equipment will be gladly sent on request. Our engineering department is also at your service.

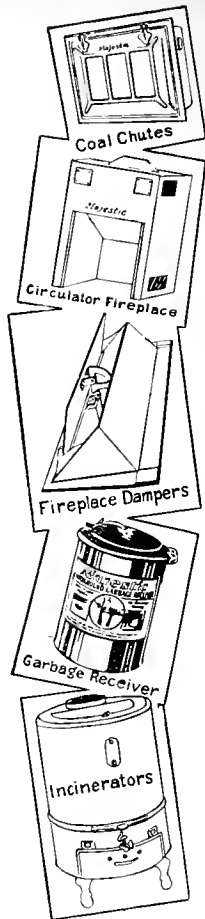

MAJESTIC BUILDING PRODUCTS

The name Majestic is almost synonymous with home building. Majestic Coal Chutes, Fireplace Dampers, etc., (44 items in all) are nationally distributed through building material dealers everywhere. Ask for complete catalog. You will find a number of products needed for new or modernization planning.

IT'S STILL THE SAME OLD PLACE !!

We wish to extend our appreciation to the spirit already shown us by the Wesleyan Students. Our aim is to continue in furnishing a courteous and friendly shop where students can stop for those "missed breakfasts," and can drop in between classes and at odd times to enjoy a bit of wholesome refreshment in the midst of real Wesleyan hospitality. Our fondest hope will be in trying to continue this good feeling that has existed between the students and Jerry.

BUILT FOR

24 HOUR SERVICE

This Diesel electric switcher recently put into service in the Pittsburgh district has been especially designed for twenty-four hour duty. It is powered with two Cooper-Bessemer 275 h.p. six-cylinder heavy duty Diesels. The two engine arrangement has particular advantages for this service. Note the accessibility and visibility which such a design affords. Cooper-Bessemer Diesel Locomotives are built "to take it" and always show up to advantage on jobs where the service is hard and continuous. We are specializing in Diesel powered switching locomotives.
